Pinewood Hotel Damaged by Fire

Hostelry for 200 Ablaze at 4; Troopers Check

Fire badly damaged the Pinewood Hotel at Fleischmanns early this morning. The blaze was discovered about 4 a. m. and brought out the Fleischmanns fire department but because of lack of water pressure additional aid was summoned from Pine Hill, Arkville and Margaretville.

The big frame hotel, which stands on the hill across from the Fleischmanns railroad station, is located on the premises of the former Fleischmanns estate and had a capacity of over 200 guests.

It was necessary to hook up three or four pumpers to get water on the fire, since water pressure at the scene of the fire was low.

Closed for Season

The hotel had closed for the season and at the present time workmen were on the premises preparing the hotel for the winter season.

The fire was reported under control at 9 a. m. although one pumper was still at the scene.

By good work the firemen were able to save the newer portion of the hotel.

State police from Margaretville sub-station were on the scene and later today it was reported in Fleischmanns that the fire was under investigation. Cause of the fire had not been definitely established and the amount of loss could not be estimated at present.

Girl Born in Cab En Route to Local Hospital Friday

Glasco Mother and Baby 'Doing Fine' Says Dr. Ash Who Met Layton Taxi

A healthy baby girl was born shortly before 10 o'clock last night in a taxicab in which the father and mother were being rushed from Glasco to Kingston Hospital.

The mother, Mrs. Anne Mitchell, 25, of Glasco, and baby are both doing fine, their physician, Dr. Herman R. Ash of Saugerties, said today.

Dr. Ash, who had been notified before the trip began, was waiting for the mother at the hospital. When the cab arrived at 10 p. m., he found the baby had already arrived.

Driver of the taxicab was John Layton of Layton's Taxi Service, Saugerties. He reported the birth occurred in Kingston almost at the hospital. He would have made the hospital in time, he said, had his cab not been held up by a freight train on the Flatbush avenue crossing.

Appeals to Truman

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—Queen Juliana of The Netherlands has asked President Truman to take the initiative in helping solve the world refugee problem. The appeal was in a letter delivered yesterday by Netherlands Ambassador J. H. Van Roijen. The ambassador said Mr. Truman agreed to give the matter serious study.

Carton Sparks New Drive for 40-Hour Week for Police

PBA Head Blames Public Officials for Lack of Consideration Toward 40,000 Cops

Tannersville, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—If the 1952 Legislature fails to improve working conditions of policemen, the president of two police groups says the only hope is for someone to "out-Quill Quill."

John E. Carton, head of the New York City Police Benevolent Association and the Police Conference of the state, referred in a speech yesterday to Michael J. Quill, head of the CIO Transport Workers who is attempting to unionize police.

Carton's speech at the PBA's 57th annual meeting sparked a new drive for a statewide five-day, 40-hour week for police. The PBA claims to represent 17,629 New York city policemen. The conference says it has 40,000 members in 194 communities.

Carton said:

"If the state Legislature and other officials continue to remain complacent and continue to refuse to grant police the same benefits which privately employed personnel receive, it will be only a matter of months before a new type of Quill comes along to exploit our grievances."

Sees Another Quill

"If they turn us down this time," he declared, "the only prospect is for someone to come along and out-Quill Quill."

"The five-day week is the immediate solution," Carton said.

He added:

"Police have lost dozens of rights by state law, local law and departmental rules. The least we can expect are accompanying benefits."

During the 1950 and 1951 legislative sessions, the Assembly passed bills providing a 40-hour week for police, but the measures died in Senate committees.

Assemblyman Richard Knauf, chairman of the Assembly's Cities Committee, told the 300 delegates of the PBA and members of the Police Conference Executive Boards there would be no opportunity for "Quill or anyone else" to capture police organizations if the police were given a "decent" salary, "decent" pensions and a 40-hour week.

The Binghamton Republican added:

"If we can give privately employed people a 40-hour or a 35-hour week, we can certainly give a 40-hour week to police."

New Paltz Student Is Named to West Point

Robert Caron, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Caron, of Horsenden road, New Paltz, has been appointed to West Point as a cadet. He is scheduled for entrance in July, 1952, according to an appointment made by Representative Kenneth Wharton.

According to the report, Caron took top honors in the civil service examination for the United States Military Academy among his group from Ulster county.

A three-letter man in athletic circles, Caron is captain of the 1951 New Paltz High School football team. He also is a member of the varsity basketball and track squads.

Caron, who is now a senior at New Paltz High School, is president of the senior class. He was vice-president of the junior class last year.

Rowland, Baltz to Attend Parley on School Problems

Aims, accomplishments and problems common to school systems throughout the state will be brought to the discussion floor in Syracuse next month during the 19th annual meeting of the New York State School Boards Association, Inc.

Clarence S. Rowland, president of the Kingston Board of Education, said yesterday that 2,000 men and women of the state are planning to attend the conference which will take place October 21-23 at the new Onondaga County War Memorial Auditorium. School board members and school officials will represent 814 member school boards of the association at the three-day event.

President Rowland will head the local delegation which will also include Chester A. Baltz, member of the board of education.

The State School Boards Association, which serves the community and the state in establishing school policies, Rowland said, has based its theme for this year's conference on a statement by General Dwight D. Eisenhower. That statement is "Loyalty to the moral and spiritual values which have made America great is a top priority for our public schools."

Through conferences and meetings such as that next month, Mr. Rowland said, the association lays the foundation for state-wide educational improvements. In many instances, he said, the enactment of legislation benefiting some phase of the school system has been a direct result of the association's conferences.

Outstanding leaders in educational and public service fields will be the speakers at the Syracuse conference. Included will be Patrick Murphy Malin, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union, New York; Dr. Lewis A. Wilson, commissioner of education and president of the University of the State of New York; and Hon. Frank H. Trotter, president of the National School Boards Association.

Cyrus M. Higley, president of the State School Boards Association, will officiate at all meetings.

Truckers Contest New State Levy

Violation of Law Charged by Two Groups; Fee Starts Oct. 1

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—The constitutionality of New York's new weight-distance tax for heavy trucks has been challenged by a truckers' committee.

In an action filed in State Supreme Court, the Empire State Truck Operators and Allied Industries Committee contends that the new law violates three clauses of the United States Constitution and the state constitution. It also lists six charges of alleged discrimination.

The levy is scheduled to go into effect Oct. 1.

The state solicitor general, Wendell P. Brown, said yesterday the complainants had not yet filed a petition for an injunction to prevent the law from becoming effective Oct. 1. However, he said that move was expected.

The committee, which claims 250 trucking firms as members, said yesterday that several out-of-state truck operators were among those bringing the action filed here Thursday.

Suit Names Three

The suit specifically names the three members of the State Tax Commission, who will administer the new tax.

The levy was adopted by the 1951 Legislature as part of Governor Dewey's program to make heavy trucks pay a larger share of the cost of highway mainte-

2 Children, Woman Die; Damage Estimated as Million

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Houses blew up "like a giant string of firecrackers" in suburban Brighton yesterday but the natural gas blasts left only three dead.

Fifteen homes were flattened and 16 others damaged by the explosions and the fires that followed.

Three persons were hospitalized, and six firemen were treated for injuries or smoke inhalation.

Estimates of the damage in the fashionable eight-block area ran between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

Two Children Killed

The blast killed two children outright. An elderly woman died of a heart attack, apparently brought on by the excitement.

The president of the Rochester Gas and Electric Company, Alexander B. Beebee, said the first explosion apparently was caused by a regulator failure on the principal main. "We probably may never know the exact cause," he said.

The regulator normally reduces the gas pressure for distribution to homes, Beebee explained. Pressure apparently built up, the regulator failed and the explosion resulted, he said.

The first blast, at 12:30 p. m. (EST), was followed by a dozen rapid explosions. They blew up houses, one witness said, "like a giant string of firecrackers."

Wouldn't Shut Off

At one home, eight-year-old Mary Anne Maas smelled gas and telephoned her father, William Maas, Jr., who told her to shut it off.

"I tried to and it won't stop," she cried before she hung up, Maas said later.

Seconds later the house exploded. The bodies of Mary Anne and her four-year-old brother, William Maas, III, were found in the debris, burned almost beyond recognition.

Mrs. Louis A. Meyer, 77, suffered a fatal heart attack as she was being removed from her home.

Many persons in the suburb, four miles east of downtown Rochester, seemed to take the disaster in stride. Two doors away from two flattened houses an elderly gentleman mowed his lawn. One woman gave another a home permanent.

Police ordered more than 2,000 families to evacuate their homes shortly after the first blasts. By nightfall they gave the all clear.

About 2,300 pupils in the three schools were evacuated to playgrounds. Nearly seven hours after the blasts officials allowed parents to call for their children.

Robert A. Paviour of the Rochester Board of Estimate said the houses demolished were worth about $375,000 alone. He based his figures on an average estimate of $25,000 a house in the area.

Damages to the other houses varied. Officials said, however, that when personal belongings were added the total might near the $1,000,000-mark.

Dazed Messenger Repeats Story About Being Taken for Ride

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—The theft Thursday night of $49,000 from May's department store in Brooklyn was revealed by police yesterday.

One version of the robbery was that "a man in blue" abducted a store messenger while the latter was waiting for a police escort to go to a bank.

The messenger, John Dennis, 30-year-old Negro porter, was found wandering in Manhattan's Central Park early Friday morning, about 10 miles from the store in downtown Brooklyn.

From Dennis and Sam Schweber, a May's night watchman, police ascertained this much:

Dennis, with the money in a canvas bag, was waiting for the usual police escort outside the store at about 9:30 p. m. (E.S.T.), the Thursday night closing time.

Called Three Times

The police were late, and the watchman went inside three times to call the station house.

After the third call, Dennis was gone.

Picked up two and one-half hours later for loitering in Central Park, Dennis appeared dazed and said something about having been robbed.

Police thought he meant someone had held him up in the vicinity, and noting his condition sent

Cops and Firemen Remain Firm in Their Court Fight

Martocci Says Appeals Court Will Hear Petition on Monday

Patrolmen's and firemen's associations apparently remained firm today in their decision to appeal to the state's highest court in an attempt to have the police-firemen pay boost referendum placed on the ballot on November 6.

Francis Martocci, attorney for the referendum committees, said today there was "nothing new" to report after a meeting Friday night of committe members from fire and police departments. He said there has been no change in the plans announced Friday afternoon.

Scheduled Monday

At that time, Martocci announced that the petitioners in the referendum move will be heard by the Court of Appeals on Monday afternoon. The petitioners are appealing a decision by the Appellate Division which denied their motion to compel city officials to certify the petition for the November ballot.

The decision, handed down by Supreme Court Justice Herbert D. Hamm, held the petition invalid because it failed to contain a plan for raising money within the meaning of an amendment to the City Home Rule Law. Martocci has held the placing of the revenue responsibility with the Common Council in effect is a plan.

Boat, Camera Stolen

The thefts of a rowboat from the Rondout creek near the ferry slip and of a camera and field glasses from an automobile were reported to police Friday afternoon. The boat, owned by Andrew McDermott of 11 Brewster street, was a 14-foot boat painted battleship gray with cream trim and was valued at $60, police said. The camera and field glasses were taken from an automobile owned by Mrs. Russell Fallon of 101 Elmendorf street "within the past few days," according to the police report.

Hard to Find Trigger

Dayton, O., Sept. 22 (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Nobel prize-winning physicist, said yesterday he thinks it unlikely man can find a way to "trigger-off" the H-bomb. "I should be foolish if I denied the possibility, but I don't think it likely," Dr. Millikan said during a visit to Wright-Patterson air force base here. To explode the hydrogen bomb, man will have to find a way to duplicate temperatures and pressures around the sun, Dr. Millikan said.

Democrats Are Making Charges on Mixing of Facts; Claim Him Ineligible

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—A Democrat's angry blast at Senator McCarthy appeared today to indicate an increasingly bitter political battle over whether the Wisconsin Republican should be ousted from Congress.

Senator Hennings (D.-Mo.) charged in the Senate late yesterday that McCarthy had resorted to "techniques of distortion and misrepresentation" in suggesting that Hennings disqualify himself as a member of a Senate rules subcommittee.

This is the group which has before it a resolution by Senator Benton (D.-Conn.) raising the question of whether McCarthy should be expelled from the Senate.

Hennings' remarks brought Senator Welker (R.-Idaho) to McCarthy's defense. But another Republican—Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine—crossed the chamber and shook Hennings' hand when he concluded. So did two Democratic senators—Douglas (Ill.) and McHahon (Conn.).

Calls Him Prejudiced

McCarthy later accused Hennings of making "a personal attack on me" and of being "completely prejudiced."

Benton has accused McCarthy of "character assassination" in pressing his Communists-in-government charges. McCarthy in turn has called Benton a "mental midget" trying to shield what McCarthy calls "the crimson clique in the State Department.

Benton's resolution notes that the rules subcommittee, reporting on its inquiry into the 1950 Maryland senatorial election campaign, sharply criticized the campaign conducted on behalf of Senator John Marshall Butler, a Republican, who defeated former Democratic Senator Millard E. Tydings.

The subcommittee described that campaign, in which it said McCarthy was "actively interested," as a "despicable, back-street type." Benton's resolution calls for further investigation of McCarthy's role in that campaign

Donaldson Called Most Tyrannical

San Francisco, Sept. 22 (AP)—The head of the nation's Letter Carriers' Union today called upon President Truman to fire Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson.

William C. Doherty, the postal union chief and a vice-president of the AFL, described Donaldson as "the most tyrannical administrator ever to hold office" in the mail service.

Donaldson, a career Postal Department executive, was advanced to the cabinet job two years ago when the late Robert E. Hannegan retired. At the time, the unions of federal workers hailed his appointment.

But Donaldson cut down mail deliveries and imposed widespread, slashing economies, and Doherty in the last two years has become Donaldson's sharpest critic.

120 American and Red Warplanes Swirl in Fights Over Korean Northwest

Enemy Loss Heavy

Night Sky Raiders Blast 430 Vehicles and Rail Cars With Supplies

Tokyo, Sept. 22 (AP)—The allied supreme commander worked long hours today on a reply to the Communist offer to resume the Korean armistice talks.

When the answer will be made public was not known.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway worked on the message both in the morning and in the afternoon. No one at his headquarters could say if it was completed.

'Mig Alley' Clash

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 22 (AP)—Nearly 120 American and Communist jet warplanes today fought for 25 minutes high over "Mig Alley" in northwest Korea in what may have been history's biggest jet battle.

U. S. pilots reported they damaged three Red MIG-15s.

The battle swirled from 37,000 feet down to 20,000 feet. It didn't go all the way down to three-top level as some recent jet fights have.

Pilots claiming hits on their Communist foes were Lt. Arthur O'Conner, St. Joseph, Mo.; Lt. Raymond C. Barton, Augusta, Ga., and Lt. Eugene Conley, Akron, Ohio.

On the east-central front, allied infantrymen Saturday hurled another attack at the highest peak of "Heartbreak Ridge."

Little Action in Area

Little action was reported from the central front, where allied tanks Friday smashed almost to Pyonggang in an armored raid through the old Red "iron triangle." Pyonggang, northern tip of the triangle, is 29 miles north of Parallel 38.

UN officers estimated the Reds lost nearly 1,000 men killed or wounded in the action.

They said that only one of the four tank-tipped forces on the raid ran into trouble. It had to fight out of a curtain of anti-tank, mortar, artillery and small arms fire.

The western front was relatively quiet.

Damage Supplies

Allied night fighters prowling the Korean skies Friday night and Saturday morning attacked 1,400 Communist vehicles. U. S. Fifth Air Force pilots said they destroyed or damaged at least 430 vehicles, 50 rail cars and three locomotives.

The air force summary reported more highway traffic and less rail movement than in recent days.

Talk of a gigantic Red offensive in the west has died down around Eighth Army headquarters.

The Communist power still is there—masses of infantry backed by tanks and threats of air power. But the waning of the full moon has quieted speculation. Red attacks usually are launched by light of a full moon.

In the east, save for the renewed assaults on "Heartbreak Ridge," there was a general slack-

Tells Group Called Reds They Couldn't Meet in Russia

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—The resolution before the United Electrical Workers convention was the final bit of business yesterday.

It called for a cease fire in Korea, an armistice, withdrawal of all non-Korean troops, a global peace conference that could include Red China, and abolition of atomic weapons.

President Albert J. Fitzgerald, whose union was kicked out of the CIO for alleged Communist leanings though officials termed the charges lies, was about to put the question.

Then a voice from the floor demanded recognition. Up rose John Lopat, a young man of medium build who works for the Anaconda Copper Co., in Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.

He remarked that other speakers seemed to think Soviet Russia was a grand place.

"But," he went on, "I know—because I come from Russia.

"I don't get any more letters from my mother.

"My brother tried to hold a meeting in Russia like this meeting and he went . . ." and his voice dropped low.

". . . I don't know where," he continued.

"Do you think you can hold a meeting like this in Russia?" he demanded.

"Yes," came a shout from the floor.

"You cannot," said Lopat, and his voice was a roar that thundered through the convention room.

"Where were we at the time of Pearl Harbor? Why weren't we prepared? I can't see my country tripped and pushed around.

"Let's keep our country strong."

Then Lopat sat down.

He got fair applause.

President Fitzgerald took over. He said the convention was not implying that the U. S. was all wrong and Stalin all right.

"I don't know Stalin and I don't give a damn about him," he said. "But we have the right to raise our voices to try to influence the policies of our country.

"We'd like to be allies with Russia again but if they didn't do their part we'd criticize them on the floor of this convention."

The vote was taken. The resolution passed. No negative votes were heard.

Seconds later the house exploded. The bodies of Mary Anne and her four-year-old brother, William Maas, III, were found in the debris, burned almost beyond recognition.

Mrs. Louis A. Meyer, 77, suffered a fatal heart attack as she was being removed from her home.

Many persons in the suburb, four miles east of downtown Rochester, seemed to take the disaster in stride. Two doors away from two flattened houses an elderly gentleman mowed his lawn. One woman gave another a home permanent.

Police ordered more than 2,000 families to evacuate their homes shortly after the first blasts. By nightfall they gave the all clear.

About 2,300 pupils in the three schools were evacuated to playgrounds. Nearly seven hours after the blasts officials allowed parents to call for their children.

Robert A. Paviour of the Rochester Board of Estimate said the houses demolished were worth about $375,000 alone. He based his figures on an average estimate of $25,000 a house in the area.

Damages to the other houses varied. Officials said, however, that when personal belongings were added the total might near the $1,000,000-mark.

Dazed Messenger Repeats Story About Being Taken for Ride

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—The theft Thursday night of $49,000 from May's department store in Brooklyn was revealed by police yesterday.

One version of the robbery was that "a man in blue" abducted a store messenger while the latter was waiting for a police escort to go to a bank.

The messenger, John Dennis, 30-year-old Negro porter, was found wandering in Manhattan's Central Park early Friday morning, about 10 miles from the store in downtown Brooklyn.

From Dennis and Sam Schweber, a May's night watchman, police ascertained this much:

Dennis, with the money in a canvas bag, was waiting for the usual police escort outside the store at about 9:30 p. m. (E.S.T.), the Thursday night closing time.

Called Three Times

The police were late, and the watchman went inside three times to call the station house.

After the third call, Dennis was gone.

Picked up two and one-half hours later for loitering in Central Park, Dennis appeared dazed and said something about having been robbed.

Police thought he meant someone had held him up in the vicinity, and noting his condition sent

Night Sky Raiders Blast 430 Vehicles and Rail Cars With Supplies

Tokyo, Sept. 22 (AP)—The allied supreme commander worked long hours today on a reply to the Communist offer to resume the Korean armistice talks.

When the answer will be made public was not known.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway worked on the message both in the morning and in the afternoon. No one at his headquarters could say if it was completed.

'Mig Alley' Clash

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 22 (AP)—Nearly 120 American and Communist jet warplanes today fought for 25 minutes high over "Mig Alley" in northwest Korea in what may have been history's biggest jet battle.

U. S. pilots reported they damaged three Red MIG-15s.

The battle swirled from 37,000 feet down to 20,000 feet. It didn't go all the way down to three-top level as some recent jet fights have.

Pilots claiming hits on their Communist foes were Lt. Arthur O'Conner, St. Joseph, Mo.; Lt. Raymond C. Barton, Augusta, Ga., and Lt. Eugene Conley, Akron, Ohio.

Little Action in Area

Little action was reported from the central front, where allied tanks Friday smashed almost to Pyonggang in an armored raid through the old Red "iron triangle." Pyonggang, northern tip of the triangle, is 29 miles north of Parallel 38.

UN officers estimated the Reds lost nearly 1,000 men killed or wounded in the action.

They said that only one of the four tank-tipped forces on the raid ran into trouble. It had to fight out of a curtain of anti-tank, mortar, artillery and small arms fire.

The western front was relatively quiet.

Damage Supplies

Allied night fighters prowling the Korean skies Friday night and Saturday morning attacked 1,400 Communist vehicles. U. S. Fifth Air Force pilots said they destroyed or damaged at least 430 vehicles, 50 rail cars and three locomotives.

The air force summary reported more highway traffic and less rail movement than in recent days.

Talk of a gigantic Red offensive in the west has died down around Eighth Army headquarters.

The Communist power still is there—masses of infantry backed by tanks and threats of air power. But the waning of the full moon has quieted speculation. Red attacks usually are launched by light of a full moon.

In the east, save for the renewed assaults on "Heartbreak Ridge," there was a general slack-

Cops and Firemen Remain Firm in Their Court Fight

Martocci Says Appeals Court Will Hear Petition on Monday

Patrolmen's and firemen's associations apparently remained firm today in their decision to appeal to the state's highest court in an attempt to have the police-firemen pay boost referendum placed on the ballot on November 6.

Francis Martocci, attorney for the referendum committees, said today there was "nothing new" to report after a meeting Friday night of committe members from fire and police departments. He said there has been no change in the plans announced Friday afternoon.

Scheduled Monday

At that time, Martocci announced that the petitioners in the referendum move will be heard by the Court of Appeals on Monday afternoon. The petitioners are appealing a decision by the Appellate Division which denied their motion to compel city officials to certify the petition for the November ballot.

The decision, handed down by Supreme Court Justice Herbert D. Hamm, held the petition invalid because it failed to contain a plan for raising money within the meaning of an amendment to the City Home Rule Law. Martocci has held the placing of the revenue responsibility with the Common Council in effect is a plan.

Boat, Camera Stolen

The thefts of a rowboat from the Rondout creek near the ferry slip and of a camera and field glasses from an automobile were reported to police Friday afternoon. The boat, owned by Andrew McDermott of 11 Brewster street, was a 14-foot boat painted battleship gray with cream trim and was valued at $60, police said. The camera and field glasses were taken from an automobile owned by Mrs. Russell Fallon of 101 Elmendorf street "within the past few days," according to the police report.

Hard to Find Trigger

Dayton, O., Sept. 22 (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Millikan, Nobel prize-winning physicist, said yesterday he thinks it unlikely man can find a way to "trigger-off" the H-bomb. "I should be foolish if I denied the possibility, but I don't think it likely," Dr. Millikan said during a visit to Wright-Patterson air force base here. To explode the hydrogen bomb, man will have to find a way to duplicate temperatures and pressures around the sun, Dr. Millikan said.

Democrats Are Making Charges on Mixing of Facts; Claim Him Ineligible

Washington, Sept. 22 (AP)—A Democrat's angry blast at Senator McCarthy appeared today to indicate an increasingly bitter political battle over whether the Wisconsin Republican should be ousted from Congress.

Senator Hennings (D.-Mo.) charged in the Senate late yesterday that McCarthy had resorted to "techniques of distortion and misrepresentation" in suggesting that Hennings disqualify himself as a member of a Senate rules subcommittee.

This is the group which has before it a resolution by Senator Benton (D.-Conn.) raising the question of whether McCarthy should be expelled from the Senate.

Hennings' remarks brought Senator Welker (R.-Idaho) to McCarthy's defense. But another Republican—Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine—crossed the chamber and shook Hennings' hand when he concluded. So did two Democratic senators—Douglas (Ill.) and McHahon (Conn.).

Calls Him Prejudiced

McCarthy later accused Hennings of making "a personal attack on me" and of being "completely prejudiced."

Benton has accused McCarthy of "character assassination" in pressing his Communists-in-government charges. McCarthy in turn has called Benton a "mental midget" trying to shield what McCarthy calls "the crimson clique in the State Department.

Benton's resolution notes that the rules subcommittee, reporting on its inquiry into the 1950 Maryland senatorial election campaign, sharply criticized the campaign conducted on behalf of Senator John Marshall Butler, a Republican, who defeated former Democratic Senator Millard E. Tydings.

The subcommittee described that campaign, in which it said McCarthy was "actively interested," as a "despicable, back-street type." Benton's resolution calls for further investigation of McCarthy's role in that campaign

Donaldson Called Most Tyrannical

San Francisco, Sept. 22 (AP)—The head of the nation's Letter Carriers' Union today called upon President Truman to fire Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson.

William C. Doherty, the postal union chief and a vice-president of the AFL, described Donaldson as "the most tyrannical administrator ever to hold office" in the mail service.

Donaldson, a career Postal Department executive, was advanced to the cabinet job two years ago when the late Robert E. Hannegan retired. At the time, the unions of federal workers hailed his appointment.

But Donaldson cut down mail deliveries and imposed wide-spread, slashing economies, and Doherty in the last two years has become Donaldson's sharpest critic.

Tells Group Called Reds They Couldn't Meet in Russia

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—The resolution before the United Electrical Workers convention was the final bit of business yesterday.

It called for a cease fire in Korea, an armistice, withdrawal of all non-Korean troops, a global peace conference that could include Red China, and abolition of atomic weapons.

President Albert J. Fitzgerald, whose union was kicked out of the CIO for alleged Communist leanings though officials termed the charges lies, was about to put the question.

Then a voice from the floor demanded recognition. Up rose John Lopat, a young man of medium build who works for the Anaconda Copper Co., in Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.

He remarked that other speakers seemed to think Soviet Russia was a grand place.

"But," he went on, "I know—because I come from Russia.

"I don't get any more letters from my mother.

"My brother tried to hold a meeting in Russia like this meeting and he went . . ." and his voice dropped low.

"Do you think you can hold a meeting like this in Russia?" he demanded.

"Yes," came a shout from the floor.

"You cannot," said Lopat, and his voice was a roar that thundered through the convention room.

"Where were we at the time of Pearl Harbor? Why weren't we prepared? I can't see my country tripped and pushed around.

"Let's keep our country strong."

Then Lopat sat down.

He got fair applause.

President Fitzgerald took over. He said the convention was not implying that the U. S. was all wrong and Stalin all right.

"I don't know Stalin and I don't give a damn about him," he said. "But we have the right to raise our voices to try to influence the policies of our country.

"We'd like to be allies with Russia again but if they didn't do their part we'd criticize them on the floor of this convention."

The vote was taken. The resolution passed. No negative votes were heard.

Hostelry for 200 Ablaze at 4; Troopers Check

Fire badly damaged the Pinewood Hotel at Fleischmanns early this morning. The blaze was discovered about 4 a. m. and brought out the Fleischmanns fire department but because of lack of water pressure additional aid was summoned from Pine Hill, Arkville and Margaretville.

The big frame hotel, which stands on the hill across from the Fleischmanns railroad station, is located on the premises of the former Fleischmanns estate and had a capacity of over 200 guests.

It was necessary to hook up three or four pumpers to get water on the fire, since water pressure at the scene of the fire was low.

Closed for Season

The hotel had closed for the season and at the present time workmen were on the premises preparing the hotel for the winter season.

The fire was reported under control at 9 a. m. although one pumper was still at the scene.

By good work the firemen were able to save the newer portion of the hotel.

State police from Margaretville sub-station were on the scene and later today it was reported in Fleischmanns that the fire was under investigation. Cause of the fire had not been definitely established and the amount of loss could not be estimated at present.

Glasco Mother and Baby 'Doing Fine' Says Dr. Ash Who Met Layton Taxi

A healthy baby girl was born shortly before 10 o'clock last night in a taxicab in which the father and mother were being rushed from Glasco to Kingston Hospital.

The mother, Mrs. Anne Mitchell, 25, of Glasco, and baby are both doing fine, their physician, Dr. Herman R. Ash of Saugerties, said today.

Dr. Ash, who had been notified before the trip began, was waiting for the mother at the hospital. When the cab arrived at 10 p. m., he found the baby had already arrived.

Driver of the taxicab was John Layton of Layton's Taxi Service, Saugerties. He reported the birth occurred in Kingston almost at the hospital. He would have made the hospital in time, he said, had his cab not been held up by a freight train on the Flatbush avenue crossing.

Carton Sparks New Drive for 40-Hour Week for Police

PBA Head Blames Public Officials for Lack of Consideration Toward 40,000 Cops

Tannersville, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—If the 1952 Legislature fails to improve working conditions of policemen, the president of two police groups says the only hope is for someone to "out-Quill Quill."

John E. Carton, head of the New York City Police Benevolent Association and the Police Conference of the state, referred in a speech yesterday to Michael J. Quill, head of the CIO Transport Workers who is attempting to unionize police.

Carton's speech at the PBA's 57th annual meeting sparked a new drive for a statewide five-day, 40-hour week for police. The PBA claims to represent 17,629 New York city policemen. The conference says it has 40,000 members in 194 communities.

Carton said:

"If the state Legislature and other officials continue to remain complacent and continue to refuse to grant police the same benefits which privately employed personnel receive, it will be only a matter of months before a new type of Quill comes along to exploit our grievances."

Sees Another Quill

"If they turn us down this time," he declared, "the only prospect is for someone to come along and out-Quill Quill."

"The five-day week is the immediate solution," Carton said.

He added:

"Police have lost dozens of rights by state law, local law and departmental rules. The least we can expect are accompanying benefits."

During the 1950 and 1951 legislative sessions, the Assembly passed bills providing a 40-hour week for police, but the measures died in Senate committees.

Assemblyman Richard Knauf, chairman of the Assembly's Cities Committee, told the 300 delegates of the PBA and members of the Police Conference Executive Boards there would be no opportunity for "Quill or anyone else" to capture police organizations if the police were given a "decent" salary, "decent" pensions and a 40-hour week.

The Binghamton Republican added:

"If we can give privately employed people a 40-hour or a 35-hour week, we can certainly give a 40-hour week to police."

New Paltz Student Is Named to West Point

Robert Caron, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Caron, of Horsenden road, New Paltz, has been appointed to West Point as a cadet. He is scheduled for entrance in July, 1952, according to an appointment made by Representative Kenneth Wharton.

According to the report, Caron took top honors in the civil service examination for the United States Military Academy among his group from Ulster county.

A three-letter man in athletic circles, Caron is captain of the 1951 New Paltz High School football team. He also is a member of the varsity basketball and track squads.

Caron, who is now a senior at New Paltz High School, is president of the senior class. He was vice-president of the junior class last year.

Rowland, Baltz to Attend Parley on School Problems

Aims, accomplishments and problems common to school systems throughout the state will be brought to the discussion floor in Syracuse next month during the 19th annual meeting of the New York State School Boards Association, Inc.

Clarence S. Rowland, president of the Kingston Board of Education, said yesterday that 2,000 men and women of the state are planning to attend the conference which will take place October 21-23 at the new Onondaga County War Memorial Auditorium. School board members and school officials will represent 814 member school boards of the association at the three-day event.

President Rowland will head the local delegation which will also include Chester A. Baltz, member of the board of education.

The State School Boards Association, which serves the community and the state in establishing school policies, Rowland said, has based its theme for this year's conference on a statement by General Dwight D. Eisenhower. That statement is "Loyalty to the moral and spiritual values which have made America great is a top priority for our public schools."

Through conferences and meetings such as that next month, Mr. Rowland said, the association lays the foundation for state-wide educational improvements. In many instances, he said, the enactment of legislation benefiting some phase of the school system has been a direct result of the association's conferences.

Outstanding leaders in educational and public service fields will be the speakers at the Syracuse conference. Included will be Patrick Murphy Malin, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union, New York; Dr. Lewis A. Wilson, commissioner of education and president of the University of the State of New York; and Hon. Frank H. Trotter, president of the National School Boards Association.

Cyrus M. Higley, president of the State School Boards Association, will officiate at all meetings.

Truckers Contest New State Levy

Violation of Law Charged by Two Groups; Fee Starts Oct. 1

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—The constitutionality of New York's new weight-distance tax for heavy trucks has been challenged by a truckers' committee.

In an action filed in State Supreme Court, the Empire State Truck Operators and Allied Industries Committee contends that the new law violates three clauses of the United States Constitution and the state constitution. It also lists six charges of alleged discrimination.

The levy is scheduled to go into effect Oct. 1.

The state solicitor general, Wendell P. Brown, said yesterday the complainants had not yet filed a petition for an injunction to prevent the law from becoming effective Oct. 1. However, he said that move was expected.

The committee, which claims 250 trucking firms as members, said yesterday that several out-of-state truck operators were among those bringing the action filed here Thursday.

Suit Names Three

The suit specifically names the three members of the State Tax Commission, who will administer the new tax.

The levy was adopted by the 1951 Legislature as part of Governor Dewey's program to make heavy trucks pay a larger share of the cost of highway mainte-

2 Children, Woman Die; Damage Estimated as Million

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Houses blew up "like a giant string of firecrackers" in suburban Brighton yesterday but the natural gas blasts left only three dead.

Fifteen homes were flattened and 16 others damaged by the explosions and the fires that followed.

Three persons were hospitalized, and six firemen were treated for injuries or smoke inhalation.

Estimates of the damage in the fashionable eight-block area ran between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

Two Children Killed

The blast killed two children outright. An elderly woman died of a heart attack, apparently brought on by the excitement.

The president of the Rochester Gas and Electric Company, Alexander B. Beebee, said the first explosion apparently was caused by a regulator failure on the principal main. "We probably may never know the exact cause," he said.

The regulator normally reduces the gas pressure for distribution to homes, Beebee explained. Pressure apparently built up, the regulator failed and the explosion resulted, he said.

The first blast, at 12:30 p. m. (EST), was followed by a dozen rapid explosions. They blew up houses, one witness said, "like a giant string of firecrackers."

Wouldn't Shut Off

At one home, eight-year-old Mary Anne Maas smelled gas and telephoned her father, William Maas, Jr., who told her to shut it off.

"I tried to and it won't stop," she cried before she hung up, Maas said later.

Seconds later the house exploded. The bodies of Mary Anne and her four-year-old brother, William Maas, III, were found in the debris, burned almost beyond recognition.

Mrs. Louis A. Meyer, 77, suffered a fatal heart attack as she was being removed from her home.

It called for a cease fire in Korea, an armistice, withdrawal of all non-Korean troops, a global peace conference that could include Red China, and abolition of atomic weapons.

President Albert J. Fitzgerald, whose union was kicked out of the CIO for alleged Communist leanings though officials termed the charges lies, was about to put the question.

Then a voice from the floor demanded recognition. Up rose John Lopat, a young man of medium build who works for the Anaconda Copper Co., in Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.

He remarked that other speakers seemed to think Soviet Russia was a grand place.

"But," he went on, "I know—because I come from Russia.

"I don't get any more letters from my mother.

"My brother tried to hold a meeting in Russia like this meeting and he went . . ." and his voice dropped low.

". . . I don't know where," he continued.

"Do you think you can hold a meeting like this in Russia?" he demanded.

"Yes," came a shout from the floor.

"You cannot," said Lopat, and his voice was a roar that thundered through the convention room.

"Where were we at the time of Pearl Harbor? Why weren't we prepared? I can't see my country tripped and pushed around.

"Let's keep our country strong."

Then Lopat sat down.

He got fair applause.

President Fitzgerald took over. He said the convention was not implying that the U. S. was all wrong and Stalin all right.

"I don't know Stalin and I don't give a damn about him," he said. "But we have the right to raise our voices to try to influence the policies of our country.

"We'd like to be allies with Russia again but if they didn't do their part we'd criticize them on the floor of this convention."

The vote was taken. The resolution passed. No negative votes were heard.

Speaks Sunday

REV. NELSON C. MUNSON

The Rev. Nelson C. Munson, of Oceanside, L. I., who served as interim pastor at the First Baptist Church from Dec. 3, 1949, to June, 1950, will be the guest speaker at that church Sunday during the regular worship service at 11 a. m. His topic will be Spotted Goodness.

The Oceanside cleric served 51 months as army chaplain during World War 2 and is now retired. He holds the rank of major in the honorary reserve. He saw service for 27 months with the Western Army Training Command and later with the Army Transportation Corps in North Africa.

District Attorney Scored by Dewey

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has ordered Richmond County District Attorney Herman Methfessel superseded in all proceedings related to the state crime probe of alleged crime-politics tieups on Staten Island.

Methfessel had a woman arrested for perjury Thursday after she testified before the crime commission that she saw the DA in a house where men were playing roulette. He denied the charge.

The crime committee said it would protest the woman's arrest to the governor, and accused Methfessel of trying to intimidate witnesses.

Methfessel himself then asked the governor to replace him in the case of the woman, Mrs. Anna Wentworth, 36, a former domestic who lives on Staten Island.

Yesterday in Albany, Dewey directed State Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein to appoint a special prosecutor to supersede Methfessel "in the handling of this case and all other matters that may arise from the investigation by the crime commission in Richmond county."

The governor's statement added:

"It is clear that the conduct of the district attorney, in using the power of his office to direct the arrest and questioning of a person who testified against him personally, was a gross abuse of power. The use of the office of a district attorney for personal or political reasons is intolerable."

Time Is Changed

The regular Saturday night Showers of Blessing program sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene will be held tonight over WKNY at a new time, 7:15 to 7:45 o'clock instead of the usual 7 to 7:30 o'clock broadcast hour.

MAGIC WORDS

Once during the days of Knute Rockne things were going badly for Notre Dame in a game against Army. The Irish had made a couple of quick touchdowns in the first half, but Army came back and scored once and was threatening to tie up the game in the fourth quarter. The Notre Dame defense was befuddled. Every time Harry Mehre, who was playing center for Notre Dame, called out a defensive signal, Army chalked up a long gain. Mehre kept looking toward the bench, expecting a sub to come in with the magic word, telling him what to do. Finally the sub came running in. He couldn't talk on the next play, of course, and Army gained about seven yards. Mehre turned toward the sub and said: "Quick, what did coach say to do?" "He said," the sub panted, "to hold 'em!"

We so often miss the magic words because we look for them to be decked out in society clothes, and they are always dressed in working garb. We search for them in the vocabulary of ease and they are found only in the vocabulary of strenuous effort. We think that the magic words are the unusual words, when in reality they are very common words like "carefulness" and "application" and "determination" and "patience."

Somebody has said that too many people stop looking for work when they get a job. Such folks are always wondering why others seem to get all of the advancements while they "stay put." What they never seem to realize is that, by and large, advancements are made not by the boss taking a look into the wishing well of his employes but by observing how much of their best they put into their work. Balzac has defined success as "nothing but a good idea coupled with hard work." Was it Edison who said that genius was five per cent inspiration and 95 per cent perspiration? Diamonds, you know, are just lumps of coal that have stuck to their jobs.

So, don't waste your time looking for some magic word that will "put you across." Remember that a determined soul will do more with a rusty monkey wrench than a loafer will accomplish with all the tools in the machine shop.

'Boy Preacher' Will Speak Here Sunday

Billy Richardson, 13-year-old "Boy Preacher" from Richmond Hill, will speak in a combined service to the Sunday school and the worship congregation Sunday at 10:30 a. m. at the Church of the Nazarene. Billy Richardson states that he has answered the Divine Call to enter the ministry, and although just through grammar school, he has a full-slate for special Sunday services in the area where he can return home for school during the week-days. He possesses all the poise, dignity, sincerity, and heart passion that any mature minister should; and his ministry has been very fruitful in the winning of new converts to the Christian faith.

This service, conducted in the parish hall of the Holy Cross Church, is open to the public.

Religious Radio Programs

Under the auspices of the Kingston Ministerial Association, cooperating with Station WKNY, the morning devotions are broadcast each day, Monday through Saturday, at 8:20. Next week the officiating ministers will be as indicated: Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Rev. Ernest L. Witte, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church; Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the Rev. Frank Lawrence Gollnick, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Speaks Sunday

REV. NELSON C. MUNSON

The Rev. Nelson C. Munson, of Oceanside, L. I., who served as interim pastor at the First Baptist Church from Dec. 3, 1949, to June, 1950, will be the guest speaker at that church Sunday during the regular worship service at 11 a. m. His topic will be Spotted Goodness.

The Rev. Mr. Munson will appear in the Baptist pulpit due to the illness of the Rev. Donald E. Brown, pastor.

The Oceanside cleric served 51 months as army chaplain during World War 2 and is now retired. He holds the rank of major in the honorary reserve. He saw service for 27 months with the Western Army Training Command and later with the Army Transportation Corps in North Africa.

Prior to his military service, the Rev. Mr. Munson held pastorates in Millerton, West Oneonta and Lynnbrook, L. I.

District Attorney Scored by Dewey

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has ordered Richmond County District Attorney Herman Methfessel superseded in all proceedings related to the state crime probe of alleged crime-politics tieups on Staten Island.

Methfessel had a woman arrested for perjury Thursday after she testified before the crime comsion that she saw the DA in a house where men were playing roulette. He denied the charge.

The crime committee said it would protest the woman's arrest to the governor, and accused Methfessel of trying to intimidate witnesses.

Methfessel himself then asked the governor to replace him in the case of the woman, Mrs. Anna Wentworth, 36, a former domestic who lives on Staten Island.

Yesterday in Albany, Dewey directed State Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein to appoint a special prosecutor to supersede Methfessel "in the handling of this case and all other matters that may arise from the investigation by the crime commission in Richmond county."

The governor's statement added:

"It is clear that the conduct of the district attorney, in using the power of his office to direct the arrest and questioning of a person who testified against him personally, was a gross abuse of power. The use of the office of a district attorney for personal or political reasons is intolerable."

Time Is Changed

The regular Saturday night Showers of Blessing program sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene will be held tonight over WKNY at a new time, 7:15 to 7:45 o'clock instead of the usual 7 to 7:30 o'clock broadcast hour.

Your Life and Mine

MAGIC WORDS

Once during the days of Knute Rockne things were going badly for Notre Dame in a game against Army. The Irish had made a couple of quick touchdowns in the first half, but Army came back and scored once and was threatening to tie up the game in the fourth quarter. The Notre Dame defense was befuddled. Every time Harry Mehre, who was playing center for Notre Dame, called out a defensive signal, Army chalked up a long gain. Mehre kept looking toward the bench, expecting a sub to come in with the magic word, telling him what to do. Finally the sub came running in. He couldn't talk on the next play, of course, and Army gained about seven yards. Mehre turned toward the sub and said: "Quick, what did coach say to do?" "He said," the sub panted, "to hold 'em!"

We so often miss the magic words because we look for them to be decked out in society clothes, and they are always dressed in working garb. We search for them in the vocabulary of ease and they are found only in the vocabulary of strenuous effort. We think that the magic words are the unusual words, when in reality they are very common words like "carefulness" and "application" and "determination" and "patience."

Somebody has said that too many people stop looking for work when they get a job. Such folks are always wondering why others seem to get all of the advancements while they "stay put." What they never seem to realize is that, by and large, advancements are made not by the boss taking a look into the wishing well of his employes but by observing how much of their best they put into their work. Balzac has defined success as "nothing but a good idea coupled with hard work." Was it Edison who said that genius was five per cent inspiration and 95 per cent perspiration? Diamonds, you know, are just lumps of coal that have stuck to their jobs.

So, don't waste your time looking for some magic word that will "put you across." Remember that a determined soul will do more with a rusty monkey wrench than a loafer will accomplish with all the tools in the machine shop.

He possesses all the poise, dignity, sincerity, and heart passion that any mature minister should; and his ministry has been very fruitful in the winning of new converts to the Christian faith.

Speaks Sunday

District Attorney Scored by Dewey

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has ordered Richmond County District Attorney Herman Methfessel superseded in all proceedings related to the state crime probe of alleged crime-politics tieups on Staten Island.

Methfessel had a woman arrested for perjury Thursday after she testified before the crime comsion that she saw the DA in a house where men were playing roulette. He denied the charge.

The crime committee said it would protest the woman's arrest to the governor, and accused Methfessel of trying to intimidate witnesses.

Methfessel himself then asked the governor to replace him in the case of the woman, Mrs. Anna Wentworth, 36, a former domestic who lives on Staten Island.

Yesterday in Albany, Dewey directed State Attorney General Nathaniel L. Goldstein to appoint a special prosecutor to supersede Methfessel "in the handling of this case and all other matters that may arise from the investigation by the crime commission in Richmond county."

The governor's statement added:

"It is clear that the conduct of the district attorney, in using the power of his office to direct the arrest and questioning of a person who testified against him personally, was a gross abuse of power. The use of the office of a district attorney for personal or political reasons is intolerable."

Time Is Changed

The regular Saturday night Showers of Blessing program sponsored by the Church of the Nazarene will be held tonight over WKNY at a new time, 7:15 to 7:45 o'clock instead of the usual 7 to 7:30 o'clock broadcast hour.

The Star-Spangled Banner was designated the National Anthem by act of Congress, March 3, 1931.

MAGIC WORDS

Once during the days of Knute Rockne things were going badly for Notre Dame in a game against Army. The Irish had made a couple of quick touchdowns in the first half, but Army came back and scored once and was threatening to tie up the game in the fourth quarter. The Notre Dame defense was befuddled. Every time Harry Mehre, who was playing center for Notre Dame, called out a defensive signal, Army chalked up a long gain. Mehre kept looking toward the bench, expecting a sub to come in with the magic word, telling him what to do. Finally the sub came running in. He couldn't talk on the next play, of course, and Army gained about seven yards. Mehre turned toward the sub and said: "Quick, what did coach say to do?" "He said," the sub panted, "to hold 'em!"

We so often miss the magic words because we look for them to be decked out in society clothes, and they are always dressed in working garb. We search for them in the vocabulary of ease and they are found only in the vocabulary of strenuous effort. We think that the magic words are the unusual words, when in reality they are very common words like "carefulness" and "application" and "determination" and "patience."

Somebody has said that too many people stop looking for work when they get a job. Such folks are always wondering why others seem to get all of the advancements while they "stay put." What they never seem to realize is that, by and large, advancements are made not by the boss taking a look into the wishing well of his employes but by observing how much of their best they put into their work. Balzac has defined success as "nothing but a good idea coupled with hard work." Was it Edison who said that genius was five per cent inspiration and 95 per cent perspiration? Diamonds, you know, are just lumps of coal that have stuck to their jobs.

So, don't waste your time looking for some magic word that will "put you across." Remember that a determined soul will do more with a rusty monkey wrench than a loafer will accomplish with all the tools in the machine shop.

Tri Hi Girls to Send 'Chocolate for Xmas' To Teens Overseas

Members of the YWCA's Tri Hi Club for junior and senior high school girls voted to send "chocolate for Christmas" to less fortunate Y-Teens overseas during their first fall meeting earlier this week. Countries eligible for the chocolate parcel, which will be the joint contribution of all Kingston Y-teen clubs, are: Austria, Burma, Ceylon, England, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Holland, Hong Kong, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Norway, and the Philippines. Names were sent to the local YWCA from the foreign division of the national board, and are based on availability due to the international situation.

Tri Hi girls selected Norway, Germany, Austria and Hong Kong with Norway as first choice.

Included with the chocolates, which the girls will bring to each meeting, will be notes and letters to the recipients abroad. Last year, many similar letters were answered.

Roll Call Week

During October Roll Call Week will be observed from the 8th through the 14th, not only here, but all over the world. At this time clubs interpret the meaning of being a Y-teen, and recruit new members. Among Tri Hi's contributions to Rall Call Week will be the presentation of a skit, The Case of the Durable Chocolate Bar, under the direction of Miss Marianne Maugg, Y-teen dramatics advisor. The following members have volunteered to participate: Geri Billings, Maureen Dugan, Kathy Davis, Claire Griffin, Diane Johnson, Faith Kingsburg, Barbara Hutton, Jean Milliken, Lorraine Rappleyea, Sally Rose, Eileen Sickler, Bev Schryver, Joan Souers, Lynda Sulko, Carol Tremper, Marcia Woolf and Patti Zimmerman.

Joint Meetings

Tri Hi's also voted to hold periodic joint meetings with the Hi Y Club. The first get-together will be a taffy-pull at the YWCA.

It was announced that the following girls have volunteered to wait table at the two YWCA dinners: Geri Billings, Linda Van Deusen, Diane Johnson, Claire Griffin, Kathy Davis, Lorraine Rappleyea, Mary Johnson, Barbara Hutton, Joan Souer, Pat Cullum, Nancy Jackson and Mimi Levantan.

Tri Hi meets each Wednesday from 7 to 9 p. m. All junior and senior girls are welcome to attend.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Tourneys Produce Some Great Playing

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand was played in the team event of the recent national championships held by the American Contract Bridge League in Washington, D. C. The bidding and play were interesting, and so was the conversation at the end of the hand.

East made a rather risky vulnerable overcall of two spades, and South thought that his double would settle that match once and for all. Actually, East would have made two spades without much trouble.

North ran out of the double since he had raised to two hearts with an unsound hand. South naturally went to game in hearts, expecting to find a reasonable play for the game.

West opened the king of hearts, since the bidding indicated that dummy was very short in spades. South won with the ace of hearts, ruffed a spade in dummy, cashed the ace and king of diamonds, ruffed another spade in dummy, and tried to cash the queen of diamonds.

East stepped in with the nine of hearts, and declarer discarded helplessly. South still had to lose two black cards and two trumps for a two-trick set.

"You could have made that hand," said West when the play was finished. "You simply refuse the first trick, take the second trump, cash the top diamonds, ruff a spade in dummy, and lead the diamonds. I have the last trump and the long diamonds. By the time I ruff the fifth diamond, you've had three discards and one ruff. You lose only two trumps and one black card."

"That's not true," said South. "If I refuse the first trick, you can still beat me by switching to spades at once. Dummy must ruff, and I can never draw East's second trump. Would you have switched to spades if I had let you hold the first trump?"

"We'll never know," said West. "Try me the next time and well see!"

Tri Hi Girls to Send 'Chocolate for Xmas' To Teens Overseas

Members of the YWCA's Tri Hi Club for junior and senior high school girls voted to send "chocolate for Christmas" to less fortunate Y-Teens overseas during their first fall meeting earlier this week. Countries eligible for the chocolate parcel, which will be the joint contribution of all Kingston Y-teen clubs, are: Austria, Burma, Ceylon, England, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Holland, Hong Kong, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Norway, and the Philippines. Names were sent to the local YWCA from the foreign division of the national board, and are based on availability due to the international situation.

Included with the chocolates, which the girls will bring to each meeting, will be notes and letters to the recipients abroad. Last year, many similar letters were answered.

Roll Call Week

During October Roll Call Week will be observed from the 8th through the 14th, not only here, but all over the world. At this time clubs interpret the meaning of being a Y-teen, and recruit new members. The following members have volunteered to participate: Geri Billings, Maureen Dugan, Kathy Davis, Claire Griffin, Diane Johnson, Faith Kingsburg, Barbara Hutton, Jean Milliken, Lorraine Rappleyea, Sally Rose, Eileen Sickler, Bev Schryver, Joan Souers, Lynda Sulko, Carol Tremper, Marcia Woolf and Patti Zimmerman.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Tourneys Produce Some Great Playing

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand was played in the team event of the recent national championships held by the American Contract Bridge League in Washington, D. C. The bidding and play were interesting, and so was the conversation at the end of the hand.

East made a rather risky vulnerable overcall of two spades, and South thought that his double would settle that match once and for all. Actually, East would have made two spades without much trouble.

North ran out of the double since he had raised to two hearts with an unsound hand. South naturally went to game in hearts, expecting to find a reasonable play for the game.

West opened the king of hearts, since the bidding indicated that dummy was very short in spades. South won with the ace of hearts, ruffed a spade in dummy, cashed the ace and king of diamonds, ruffed another spade in dummy, and tried to cash the queen of diamonds.

East stepped in with the nine of hearts, and declarer discarded helplessly. South still had to lose two black cards and two trumps for a two-trick set.

"You could have made that hand," said West when the play was finished. "You simply refuse the first trick, take the second trump, cash the top diamonds, ruff a spade in dummy, and lead the diamonds. I have the last trump and the long diamonds. By the time I ruff the fifth diamond, you've had three discards and one ruff. You lose only two trumps and one black card."

"That's not true," said South. "If I refuse the first trick, you can still beat me by switching to spades at once. Dummy must ruff, and I can never draw East's second trump. Would you have switched to spades if I had let you hold the first trump?"

"We'll never know," said West. "Try me the next time and well see!"

Tri Hi Girls to Send 'Chocolate for Xmas' To Teens Overseas

Members of the YWCA's Tri Hi Club for junior and senior high school girls voted to send "chocolate for Christmas" to less fortunate Y-Teens overseas during their first fall meeting earlier this week. Countries eligible for the chocolate parcel, which will be the joint contribution of all Kingston Y-teen clubs, are: Austria, Burma, Ceylon, England, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Holland, Hong Kong, Italy, Japan, Liberia, Norway, and the Philippines. Names were sent to the local YWCA from the foreign division of the national board, and are based on availability due to the international situation.

Tri Hi girls selected Norway, Germany, Austria and Hong Kong with Norway as first choice.

Included with the chocolates, which the girls will bring to each meeting, will be notes and letters to the recipients abroad. Last year, many similar letters were answered.

Roll Call Week

During October Roll Call Week will be observed from the 8th through the 14th, not only here, but all over the world. At this time clubs interpret the meaning of being a Y-teen, and recruit new members. Among Tri Hi's contributions to Rall Call Week will be the presentation of a skit, The Case of the Durable Chocolate Bar, under the direction of Miss Marianne Maugg, Y-teen dramatics advisor. The following members have volunteered to participate: Geri Billings, Maureen Dugan, Kathy Davis, Claire Griffin, Diane Johnson, Faith Kingsburg, Barbara Hutton, Jean Milliken, Lorraine Rappleyea, Sally Rose, Eileen Sickler, Bev Schryver, Joan Souers, Lynda Sulko, Carol Tremper, Marcia Woolf and Patti Zimmerman.

Joint Meetings

Tri Hi's also voted to hold periodic joint meetings with the Hi Y Club. The first get-together will be a taffy-pull at the YWCA.

It was announced that the following girls have volunteered to wait table at the two YWCA dinners: Geri Billings, Linda Van Deusen, Diane Johnson, Claire Griffin, Kathy Davis, Lorraine Rappleyea, Mary Johnson, Barbara Hutton, Joan Souer, Pat Cullum, Nancy Jackson and Mimi Levantan.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Tourneys Produce Some Great Playing

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand was played in the team event of the recent national championships held by the American Contract Bridge League in Washington, D. C. The bidding and play were interesting, and so was the conversation at the end of the hand.

East made a rather risky vulnerable overcall of two spades, and South thought that his double would settle that match once and for all. Actually, East would have made two spades without much trouble.

North ran out of the double since he had raised to two hearts with an unsound hand. South naturally went to game in hearts, expecting to find a reasonable play for the game.

West opened the king of hearts, since the bidding indicated that dummy was very short in spades. South won with the ace of hearts, ruffed a spade in dummy, cashed the ace and king of diamonds, ruffed another spade in dummy, and tried to cash the queen of diamonds.

East stepped in with the nine of hearts, and declarer discarded helplessly. South still had to lose two black cards and two trumps for a two-trick set.

"You could have made that hand," said West when the play was finished. "You simply refuse the first trick, take the second trump, cash the top diamonds, ruff a spade in dummy, and lead the diamonds. I have the last trump and the long diamonds. By the time I ruff the fifth diamond, you've had three discards and one ruff. You lose only two trumps and one black card."

"That's not true," said South. "If I refuse the first trick, you can still beat me by switching to spades at once. Dummy must ruff, and I can never draw East's second trump. Would you have switched to spades if I had let you hold the first trump?"

"We'll never know," said West. "Try me the next time and well see!"

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 22, 1951.

NEW KIND OF CAN

Something for which the canning industry has been searching for many years has been found, according to the claims of a Virginia manufacturer. It is a substitute for the tin can. Scarcities of metals in periods of war have caused trouble for canners, and this is the chief reason for wanting a substitute.

Glass jars were used to a considerable extent during the recent war. These had the great advantage, at least for the consumer, that the contents could be seen, and also were potentially useful as containers after being emptied. The industry found them less advantageous, however, as they presented handling difficulties in the canning plant and were subject to breakage between cannery and customer, besides being more costly.

The new container appears to be as near an approach to a tin can as could be achieved by something else. It is made of aluminum foil and plastic, matching the tin can in shape, type of seal and ability to withstand rough handling. It looks like a tin can expect for the differences in material. At first thought this might seem to offer little advantage of availability over the tin can, as aluminum is also in great demand, although not as high-priced as tin. The future outlook for aluminum supply, however, is much better, as the output of this metal is constantly expanding and ores seem to be plentiful.

The maker claims another advantage for the new can, which could be important in the long run. He says that the materials in it can be reclaimed, almost fully. The steel and tin in the tin can are almost a total loss, when the can has been used once, since the process of reclaiming the metals is so difficult and costly that it is resorted to only in the most dire shortage. If a satisfactory reclaimable can were developed, a prodigious expenditure of steel and tin could be ended.

FUTURE FOOD SUPPLY

One of the most cheerful pieces of news to come from the world of science in many moons is that enough food can be produced in the world, with present knowledge, to feed four billion persons, more than one and a half times the present world population, and feed them abundantly. This statement, which is not a matter of unanimous agreement among scientists, was made by six Nobel prize winners attending a chemistry conference in New York.

It has been predicted that the population may reach the four-billion mark within another two or three generations. The matter of food supply for this greatly expanded population has been one of grave concern, inasmuch as so large a part of the world's people now exist on inadequate diets. The six high-ranking chemists, enlarging on what they and a few others have said in the past, declared that it would be possible to feed all of the four billions on a healthy and adequate diet.

It might not be what we would regard today as a tasty diet. It would require the growing of more food per acre in America and many other countries, and also the use of different foods. Many rich plant seed crops are now entirely wasted, and chemists know about plants which are fantastically more efficient at converting the sun's energy into food than the ones we commonly eat now.

Some others may continue to predict that before many more years the food supply situation will become acute, perhaps disastrous. But the record of the past seems to support the more optimistic view. As far as the physical maintenance of life is concerned, the human race has so far been equal to the problems of its day.

Bill Klem, who doubtless was as well known as any umpire ever was in American baseball, had made a remark which was often quoted around the diamonds. "I never called one wrong," he had said. He knew as well as anyone that no umpire could work for thirty-six years in the big leagues without making a mistake or two, and when pressed on the point he once explained that he meant he never stood on a call which he didn't honestly believe was right

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

"MY SIX CONVICTS"

Years and years ago, when I was a young fellow still at college, I got me a job with an outfit called "The National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor." That experience whetted my appetite for this gruesome subject, so that I often read books which relate themselves to prisons and prisoners.

During those years, I read deeply in the subject of penology and came in contact with some very remarkable men who either were seeking to change prison systems or who had been convicts. Once when I needed some tutoring in a few difficult subjects, a brilliant ex-convict, a man of the most profound learning, aided me. Not all convicts are bad men, although most have a foolish side; not all bad men are in jail.

So, I read a book called "My Six Convicts," by Donald Powell Wilson, described as a psychologist who had studied convicts at Fort Leavenworth Penitentiary. The author says:

"Out of deference to my administrators and colleagues whom I held in great respect, and to the prisoners themselves, six of who comprised my regular staff of assistants, I have indulged literary license in the use of names, places and dates, and in the development of some of the episodes recorded. . . ."

Well, I did not get excited about this book one way or the other until I read an article by Louis Messolonghites on "My Six Convicts" in "The Prison World," the official publication of the American Prison Association and National Jail Association. The aforesaid Louis Messolonghites I know well in King Features and regard him as capable of meticulous accuracy.

So Messolonghites wrote of "My Six Convicts":

". . . Dr. Wilson says in his preface that the book is partly fictional, although the book's jacket claims that all of the events actually occurred, including the safecracker's holiday."

He wrote:

"Dr. Wilson spent 20 months, not three years, at Fort Leavenworth.

"No prisoner was stabbed to death in the prison yard, as described on page 32.

"Wilson claims to have given a psychological examination to Al Capone. Capone was never in Fort Leavenworth.

"The safecracker incident—shades of Jimmy Valentine — did not take place at Fort Leavenworth, and it is doubtful if that ever happened in any prison.

"There was no prison break at Fort Leavenworth as Wilson says.

"His description of Fort Leavenworth's physical plant is inaccurate; with it he has mixed some features of the Joliet Penitentiary."

E. R. Cass, general secretary, the American Prison Association, and James V. Bennett, director, United States Bureau of Prisons, also oppose the book. Cass said:

". . . The acceptance of the book by a guilible public is deplorable and a source of discouragement to those who have brought the federal prison system to a high level of operation and leadership. . . ."

Bennett said:

"Much of the book is devoted to pulling out old chestnuts and repeating a few canards which Dr. Wilson in his utter naivete acceptance as fact and all of the melodramatics are pure fiction put together in true Hollywood, grade B routine, style. The book is replete with fanciful stories, not one of which is true or has any basis in fact. . . ."

Stanley M. Rinehart, Jr., the publisher of this book, who is a very competent man, quotes to me in rebuttal the following:

"In case you didn't read Austin MacCormick's review in the June issue of 'Federal Probation," he says among other things,

" 'There is no question that the book has helped create a more favorable climate for correctional progress. I am continually being asked by laymen what I think of the book, and invariably find that they enjoyed reading it and that their attitude toward prisoners as a whole and toward what prisons can accomplish in the way of rehabilitation has been decidedly changed for the better by reading it.' "

John Selby, editor-in-chief of the publishing house, says:

". . . Wilson at no point ever claimed that his book was a minutely accurate history of his service at Leavenworth, and I don't believe it is fair to judge him or the book as if this claim had been made."

I conclude that this book is not a psychological or a sociological study but is a journalistic fictional effort with a prison background. Therefore, while it is interesting, I can not take it seriously.

THE IRRITABLE COLON—LARGE BOWEL

While "itis" at the end of a word means "inflammation of," in the case of colitis (inflammation of the lining of the colon) it really means irritation of, rather than the true inflammation with temperature and pus which is called ulcerative colitis.

Most of these cases of simple colitis do not result in severe illness, nevertheless it is a mental and physical hazard as the patient is troubled with diarrhea at times and other times by spastic constipation.

While infection and eating rough or raw foods do irritate the colon and cause symptoms mentioned above, physicians are now agreed that the great majority of cases of simple or mucous colitis are caused by emotional disturbances.

In American Medical Journal, Dr. T. P. Almy reports experimental studies on 50 healthy persons and 100 persons with irritable colon who were studied by direct observation of the colon by means of the proctoscope and by use of an instrument (kymoscope) which records the pressure in a rubber or latex balloon in the lower colon at the same time as the person or patient is interviewed concerning his feeling and observation of expressions of emotions. Stress (emotional stress) was brought on in some by a hand in ice water or compression of the head with a metal band. Disturbance in the mobility or movements of the colon were found regularly in association with conflicts between feelings of hostility and resentment and feelings of guilt and self-reproach.

A striking finding from these experiments, convincingly demonstrated, is that an increase in tone or strength of the contractions in the lower end of the colon (sigmoid) is associated with outspoken or public display of hostility and aggression while a decrease in tone or strength of the contractions is associated with behavior showing hopelessness and defeat. From these strong contractions on the one hand we can understand the spastic constipation which prevents wastes passing through the colon and then the weak contractions which show discouragement, hopelessness and defeat, causing laxness of the walls of the colon and so diarrhea.

"Such alteration in mood of the individual appears to be of importance in the production of spastic constipation and functional diarrhea."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — By accident a spokesman for the army engineers let slip the basic reason for the tragic failure to control floods in the Missouri valley. He admitted that the army engineers are opposed to the Missouri Valley Authority.

The admission has given Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of army engineers, catfits. For, as a loyal army officer, he is not supposed to differ with his commander-in-chief in the White House. The difference is that General Pick and the army engineers take the side of the big private utilities and want flood-control dams for flood control and navigation only. However, thousands of farmers object to giving up their land for dams and reservoirs unless the dams also pay for themselves by generating electric power.

This is the Missouri Valley Authority plan—similar to TVA—but exactly what the private utilities and the army engineers do not want.

The army engineers' position leaked officially during a flood control hearing at which Congressman Clare Magee of Missouri asked Col. B. C. Snow, boss engineer for the upper Mississippi river valley: "Isn't it true that your chief of engineers, General Pick, is opposed to the Missouri Valley Authority?"

"Then I am opposed to it, too," snapped Snow in reply.

"That's what I thought," muttered Magee. "You boys are . . . just a bunch of Charley McCarthys, aren't you?"

"No, sir, we are loyal," said Snow, beginning to squirm under the blunt interrogation.

Magee: "You are loyal, yes, and loyalty means that you follow the leader."

Snow: "Yes, sir."

Magee: "What do you think about the Tennessee Valley Authority (on which the MVA is patterned)? Don't you think that's been successful in stopping floods and providing power for the people of southern states?"

Snow: "I have read articles in the newspapers indicating that the TVA is successful, and I have no knowledge to the contrary."

Magee: "Yes, but you don't want the Missouri Valley Authority, do you?

Snow: "No, sir."

Magee: "Because General Pick is against it?"

Snow: "Well, I have my own mind, too. My mind agrees with General Pick's thoughts."

The quite confused colonel was finally excused from the witness stand after this parting shot by Magee: "The private power companies not only of Missouri, but throughout the United States, are opposed to the MVA and I think I can definitely state that the army engineers are under the influence of the private power companies."

Capehart Choked

Indiana's lion-tempered Sen. Homer Capehart, the music-box king, was cross-examining witnesses who opposed his cost-plus amendment for boosting price ceilings.

All the top authorities from President Truman and Defense Mobilizer Wilson down have described the Capehart amendment as unworkable, but the gentleman from Indiana was mercilessly bullying everyone who dared appear before the Senate Banking Committee in opposition, including John J. Gunther, a young lobbyist for Americans for Democratic Action. Capehart tore into him with a barrage of personal questions.

"Are you a registered lobbyist? Is your wife a registered lobbyist? Is this statement a statement of yours, or did you clear it with your directors? What experience have you had in business or in cost accounting, or what experience have you had to qualify you to be an expert on this subject? Have you ever worked as a bookkeeper?"

Gunther scarcely started answering one question before Capehart would fire another. Finally, young Gunther interrupted.

"The senator from Indiana surprises me," he said. "I went to my personnel division at ADA, and one of the letters I put in the file when I applied for my job is the following:"

Gunther then read quietly: "This is to introduce Mr. John Gunther, a Hoosier, a resident of South Bend, Indiana. I have known Mr. Gunther for some time. He is of good character, and an outstanding student with a wealth of varied experience. . . . I recommend him as an able, conscientious person."

The letter was signed: "Homer S. Capehart, senator."

Correction: In reporting the new loopholes in the Senate's proposed tax bill, this column erroneously listed Senator Brewster of Maine as a member of the Senate Finance Committee which wrote the bill. Senator Brewster transferred from that committee on May 9 to the Foreign Affairs Committee and therefore had nothing to do with the new tax bill. . . . In the same column, it is only fair to point out that Senator Williams of Delaware, though a turkey breeder, opposed the tax loophole inserted in the committee permitting the capital-gains tax on the sale of turkey flocks. Senator Williams voted against this proposal in committee and also opposed a similar measure on the Senate floor last year, even though this amendment would have benefited him personally. . . . The navy and air force are smarting under new regulations prohibiting them from skimming the recruiting cream. They are not allowed to take more than 6 per cent of their recruits from the highest intelligence bracket. Therefore, both services now intend to make up for this by recruiting high I.Q. women. The air force wants 40,000, the navy 20,000. The army will compete against them for 30,000 Wacs. . . . With the construction of 100 or more new air bases scattered throughout the world, one of every four air force men will soon be stationed overseas.

Diplomatic Pouch

Here's how the British navy finally identified their missing submarine "Affray" which sank this spring in almost 300 feet of water. They lowered a television camera and some powerful lights to the bottom of the ocean and moved the camera over the ocean floor until the sunken ship came into view on the television screen. The screen, of course, was on the salvage vessel, and all the crew had to do was sit on deck and watch the TV show of the sea's floor. . . . Abdul Hassim Kashani, crafty leader of a fanatical religious sect now stirring up trouble in Iran, secretly approached the Russians last week and asked them if they'd be interested in buying his services. Kashani first offered to work for the British—for a price—but they turned him down cold. . . . In a speech to the 60-nation food and agricultural organization, Eisenhower will urge our European allies to adopt advanced American farming techniques to conserve their soil and increase food crops.

Cops May Talk Yet

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Brooklyn rackets probing grand jury is set to question some of the 18 defendants in the police graft trial who went free after bookie Harry Gross balked at talking. It was revealed yesterday that one of the accused cops, Patrolman Edmund Duncan, 32, had ignored a request to appear before the grand jury. Duncan, a suspended plainclothesman, has never appeared before the panel. But Kings County District Attorney Miles F. McDonald said Duncan will be subpoenaed to appear Monday, and that others of the 18 are expected to be called later. The freed defendants, although they cannot be tried on the same charges, could be indicted on different charges if evidence was available.

Jacoby on Canasta

Study Rule to Follow for This Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The nature of your hand usually dictates the kind of campaign you must wage. Sometimes, however, the state of the score makes you switch from one plan to another. Your own score is important, but you must also consider the score of the opponents.

Suppose the turn-up card is a king, which is refused by the player at your right. He draws from the stock and discards a queen. You draw from the stock and then hold: Joker A-A K-K-K Q 6 4-4 3-2.

Your correct course depends on the score. If neither side is above 4000 points, you have a pretty good play for the pack. If you have a big lead over the opponents, you should play the hand conservatively. If they have a big lead over you, it is proper to go all out for the pack.

Suppose, for example, that the opponents have about 4600 points and that you have about 3200. Your plan is to play for the pack. Your first discard is the queen, matching the card discarded by your right-hand opponent.

Everybody knows the importance of matching the discards of your left-hand opponent, but only a few good players know that it often pays to match the first discard or two of the player at your right. The discard tells him nothing about your hand.

He got by you safely with his discard but probably cannot repeat it, for it is unlikely that he broke up a pair or a trio. Hence he must venture into unknown territory for his next discard. Make him guess often enough and he'll sometimes guess wrong.

At your next turn you may discard one of the kings. You want to leave room in your hand to accumulate more pairs. Moreover, your opponent may decide it is safe to throw a king at his next turn. At your third turn, you will discard the black three. By this time you should have a fair idea of what it is safe to throw. If necessary, you will throw the rest of your kings in order to keep pairs of low cards.

If your plot works successfully, you will win the discard pile fairly quickly. You have a fair chance to earn a big score.

Now suppose that the scores are reversed: you have 4600 points, while the opponents have 3200. Now you don't dream of discarding a king. You will build your hand up, meld fairly early, and play for one canasta and a fast out. It would be foolish to gamble for a big score and lose a game that is practically within your grasp.

Three-Alarm Fire

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—A three-alarm fire lighted the skies over Jamaica, Queens, early today for more than an hour and a half before it was brought under control. The fire, of undetermined origin, started in an empty coal pocket of the Henry G. Fleer Coal and Fuel Oil Co., 179-02 93rd avenue, police said. The firm is located next to the Long Island Rail Road freight yards in that area. There was no immediate estimate of damage.

$23 Million Sought

Paris, Sept. 22 (AP)—The American Joint Distribution Committee (AJDC) seeks $23,500,000 to aid Jews in Europe and the Middle East next year. Moses A. Leavitt, executive vice-chairman, told reporters yesterday that this was the minimum requirement to meet the committee's needs. The funds are to be collected through the United Jewish Appeal largely in the United States. AJDC's 1951 budget was $22,650,000.

Catch Dope Suspect

Milan, Italy, Sept. 22 (AP)—Police last night arrested Jose Piel, suspected member of an international dope ring in a north Italian village. They had been trailing him since early June when Rome authorities and U. S. narcotic officials smashed a drug peddling organization.

NEW KIND OF CAN

Something for which the canning industry has been searching for many years has been found, according to the claims of a Virginia manufacturer. It is a substitute for the tin can. Scarcities of metals in periods of war have caused trouble for canners, and this is the chief reason for wanting a substitute.

Glass jars were used to a considerable extent during the recent war. These had the great advantage, at least for the consumer, that the contents could be seen, and also were potentially useful as containers after being emptied. The industry found them less advantageous, however, as they presented handling difficulties in the canning plant and were subject to breakage between cannery and customer, besides being more costly.

The new container appears to be as near an approach to a tin can as could be achieved by something else. It is made of aluminum foil and plastic, matching the tin can in shape, type of seal and ability to withstand rough handling. It looks like a tin can expect for the differences in material. At first thought this might seem to offer little advantage of availability over the tin can, as aluminum is also in great demand, although not as high-priced as tin. The future outlook for aluminum supply, however, is much better, as the output of this metal is constantly expanding and ores seem to be plentiful.

The maker claims another advantage for the new can, which could be important in the long run. He says that the materials in it can be reclaimed, almost fully. The steel and tin in the tin can are almost a total loss, when the can has been used once, since the process of reclaiming the metals is so difficult and costly that it is resorted to only in the most dire shortage. If a satisfactory reclaimable can were developed, a prodigious expenditure of steel and tin could be ended.

FUTURE FOOD SUPPLY,

One of the most cheerful pieces of news to come from the world of science in many moons is that enough food can be produced in the world, with present knowledge, to feed four billion persons, more than one and a half times the present world population, and feed them abundantly. This statement, which is not a matter of unanimous agreement among scientists, was made by six Nobel prize winners attending a chemistry conference in New York.

It has been predicted that the population may reach the four-billion mark within another two or three generations. The matter of food supply for this greatly expanded population has been one of grave concern, inasmuch as so large a part of the world's people now exist on inadequate diets. The six high-ranking chemists, enlarging on what they and a few others have said in the past, declared that it would be possible to feed all of the four billions on a healthy and adequate diet.

It might not be what we would regard today as a tasty diet. It would require the growing of more food per acre in America and many other countries, and also the use of different foods. Many rich plant seed crops are now entirely wasted, and chemists know about plants which are fantastically more efficient at converting the sun's energy into food than the ones we commonly eat now.

Some others may continue to predict that before many more years the food supply situation will become acute, perhaps disastrous. But the record of the past seems to support the more optimistic view. As far as the physical maintenance of life is concerned, the human race has so far been equal to the problems of its day.

Bill Klem, who doubtless was as well known as any umpire ever was in American baseball, had made a remark which was often quoted around the diamonds. "I never called one wrong," he had said. He knew as well as anyone that no umpire could work for thirty-six years in the big leagues without making a mistake or two, and when pressed on the point he once explained that he meant he never stood on a call which he didn't honestly believe was right

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

"MY SIX CONVICTS"

Years and years ago, when I was a young fellow still at college, I got me a job with an outfit called "The National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor." That experience whetted my appetite for this gruesome subject, so that I often read books which relate themselves to prisons and prisoners.

During those years, I read deeply in the subject of penology and came in contact with some very remarkable men who either were seeking to change prison systems or who had been convicts. Once when I needed some tutoring in a few difficult subjects, a brilliant ex-convict, a man of the most profound learning, aided me. Not all convicts are bad men, although most have a foolish side; not all bad men are in jail.

So, I read a book called "My Six Convicts," by Donald Powell Wilson, described as a psychologist who had studied convicts at Fort Leavenworth Penitentiary. The author says:

"Out of deference to my administrators and colleagues whom I held in great respect, and to the prisoners themselves, six of who comprised my regular staff of assistants, I have indulged literary license in the use of names, places and dates, and in the development of some of the episodes recorded. . . ."

Well, I did not get excited about this book one way or the other until I read an article by Louis Messolonghites on "My Six Convicts" in "The Prison World," the official publication of the American Prison Association and National Jail Association. The aforesaid Louis Messolonghites I know well in King Features and regard him as capable of meticulous accuracy.

So Messolonghites wrote of "My Six Convicts":

". . . Dr. Wilson says in his preface that the book is partly fictional, although the book's jacket claims that all of the events actually occurred, including the safecracker's holiday."

He wrote:

"Dr. Wilson spent 20 months, not three years, at Fort Leavenworth.

"No prisoner was stabbed to death in the prison yard, as described on page 32.

"Wilson claims to have given a psychological examination to Al Capone. Capone was never in Fort Leavenworth.

"The safecracker incident—shades of Jimmy Valentine — did not take place at Fort Leavenworth, and it is doubtful if that ever happened in any prison.

"There was no prison break at Fort Leavenworth as Wilson says.

"His description of Fort Leavenworth's physical plant is inaccurate; with it he has mixed some features of the Joliet Penitentiary."

E. R. Cass, general secretary, the American Prison Association, and James V. Bennett, director, United States Bureau of Prisons, also oppose the book. Cass said:

". . . The acceptance of the book by a guilible public is deplorable and a source of discouragement to those who have brought the federal prison system to a high level of operation and leadership. . . ."

Bennett said:

"Much of the book is devoted to pulling out old chestnuts and repeating a few canards which Dr. Wilson in his utter naivete acceptance as fact and all of the melodramatics are pure fiction put together in true Hollywood, grade B routine, style. The book is replete with fanciful stories, not one of which is true or has any basis in fact. . . ."

Stanley M. Rinehart, Jr., the publisher of this book, who is a very competent man, quotes to me in rebuttal the following:

"In case you didn't read Austin MacCormick's review in the June issue of 'Federal Probation," he says among other things,

" 'There is no question that the book has helped create a more favorable climate for correctional progress. I am continually being asked by laymen what I think of the book, and invariably find that they enjoyed reading it and that their attitude toward prisoners as a whole and toward what prisons can accomplish in the way of rehabilitation has been decidedly changed for the better by reading it.' "

John Selby, editor-in-chief of the publishing house, says:

". . . Wilson at no point ever claimed that his book was a minutely accurate history of his service at Leavenworth, and I don't believe it is fair to judge him or the book as if this claim had been made."

I conclude that this book is not a psychological or a sociological study but is a journalistic fictional effort with a prison background. Therefore, while it is interesting, I can not take it seriously.

THE IRRITABLE COLON—LARGE BOWEL

While "itis" at the end of a word means "inflammation of," in the case of colitis (inflammation of the lining of the colon) it really means irritation of, rather than the true inflammation with temperature and pus which is called ulcerative colitis.

Most of these cases of simple colitis do not result in severe illness, nevertheless it is a mental and physical hazard as the patient is troubled with diarrhea at times and other times by spastic constipation.

While infection and eating rough or raw foods do irritate the colon and cause symptoms mentioned above, physicians are now agreed that the great majority of cases of simple or mucous colitis are caused by emotional disturbances.

In American Medical Journal, Dr. T. P. Almy reports experimental studies on 50 healthy persons and 100 persons with irritable colon who were studied by direct observation of the colon by means of the proctoscope and by use of an instrument (kymoscope) which records the pressure in a rubber or latex balloon in the lower colon at the same time as the person or patient is interviewed concerning his feeling and observation of expressions of emotions. Stress (emotional stress) was brought on in some by a hand in ice water or compression of the head with a metal band. Disturbance in the mobility or movements of the colon were found regularly in association with conflicts between feelings of hostility and resentment and feelings of guilt and self-reproach.

A striking finding from these experiments, convincingly demonstrated, is that an increase in tone or strength of the contractions in the lower end of the colon (sigmoid) is associated with outspoken or public display of hostility and aggression while a decrease in tone or strength of the contractions is associated with behavior showing hopelessness and defeat. From these strong contractions on the one hand we can understand the spastic constipation which prevents wastes passing through the colon and then the weak contractions which show discouragement, hopelessness and defeat, causing laxness of the walls of the colon and so diarrhea.

"Such alteration in mood of the individual appears to be of importance in the production of spastic constipation and functional diarrhea."

Snow: "Yes, sir."

Magee: "What do you think about the Tennessee Valley Authority (on which the MVA is patterned)? Don't you think that's been successful in stopping floods and providing power for the people of southern states?"

Snow: "I have read articles in the newspapers indicating that the TVA is successful, and I have no knowledge to the contrary."

Magee: "Yes, but you don't want the Missouri Valley Authority, do you?"

Snow: "No, sir."

Magee: "Because General Pick is against it?"

Snow: "Well, I have my own mind, too. My mind agrees with General Pick's thoughts."

The quite confused colonel was finally excused from the witness stand after this parting shot by Magee: "The private power companies not only of Missouri, but throughout the United States, are opposed to the MVA and I think I can definitely state that the army engineers are under the influence of the private power companies."

Capehart Choked

Indiana's lion-tempered Sen. Homer Capehart, the music-box king, was cross-examining witnesses who opposed his cost-plus amendment for boosting price ceilings.

All the top authorities from President Truman and Defense Mobilizer Wilson down have described the Capehart amendment as unworkable, but the gentleman from Indiana was mercilessly bullying everyone who dared appear before the Senate Banking Committee in opposition, including John J. Gunther, a young lobbyist for Americans for Democratic Action. Capehart tore into him with a barrage of personal questions.

"Are you a registered lobbyist? Is your wife a registered lobbyist? Is this statement a statement of yours, or did you clear it with your directors? What experience have you had in business or in cost accounting, or what experience have you had to qualify you to be an expert on this subject? Have you ever worked as a bookkeeper?"

Gunther scarcely started answering one question before Capehart would fire another. Finally, young Gunther interrupted.

"The senator from Indiana surprises me," he said. "I went to my personnel division at ADA, and one of the letters I put in the file when I applied for my job is the following:"

Gunther then read quietly: "This is to introduce Mr. John Gunther, a Hoosier, a resident of South Bend, Indiana. I have known Mr. Gunther for some time. He is of good character, and an outstanding student with a wealth of varied experience. . . . I recommend him as an able, conscientious person."

The letter was signed: "Homer S. Capehart, senator."

Correction: In reporting the new loopholes in the Senate's proposed tax bill, this column erroneously listed Senator Brewster of Maine as a member of the Senate Finance Committee which wrote the bill. Senator Brewster transferred from that committee on May 9 to the Foreign Affairs Committee and therefore had nothing to do with the new tax bill. . . . In the same column, it is only fair to point out that Senator Williams of Delaware, though a turkey breeder, opposed the tax loophole inserted in the committee permitting the capital-gains tax on the sale of turkey flocks. Senator Williams voted against this proposal in committee and also opposed a similar measure on the Senate floor last year, even though this amendment would have benefited him personally. . . . Here's how the British navy finally identified their missing submarine "Affray" which sank this spring in almost 300 feet of water. They lowered a television camera and some powerful lights to the bottom of the ocean and moved the camera over the ocean floor until the sunken ship came into view on the television screen. The screen, of course, was on the salvage vessel, and all the crew had to do was sit on deck and watch the TV show of the sea's floor. . . . The leaning pagoda of Soochow, China, was first built in the year 601. Within a few years it began to lean to the right and continued to do so until 1428 when it was destroyed by an invading enemy. Eight years before Columbus sailed to the New World, the pagoda was rebuilt in 1484. Although great care was taken not to repeat the mistake of its original builders, it soon began to lean in the opposite direction. One of the great wonders of China, it has now leaned for an additional 467 years.

Cops May Talk Yet

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Brooklyn rackets probing grand jury is set to question some of the 18 defendants in the police graft trial who went free after bookie Harry Gross balked at talking. It was revealed yesterday that one of the accused cops, Patrolman Edmund Duncan, 32, had ignored a request to appear before the grand jury. Duncan, a suspended plainclothesman, has never appeared before the panel. But Kings County District Attorney Miles F. McDonald said Duncan will be subpoenaed to appear Monday, and that others of the 18 are expected to be called later. The freed defendants, although they cannot be tried on the same charges, could be indicted on different charges if evidence was available.

Jacoby on Canasta

Study Rule to Follow for This Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The nature of your hand usually dictates the kind of campaign you must wage. Sometimes, however, the state of the score makes you switch from one plan to another. Your own score is important, but you must also consider the score of the opponents.

Suppose the turn-up card is a king, which is refused by the player at your right. He draws from the stock and discards a queen. You draw from the stock and then hold: Joker A-A K-K-K Q 6 4-4 3-2.

Your correct course depends on the score. If neither side is above 4000 points, you have a pretty good play for the pack. If you have a big lead over the opponents, you should play the hand conservatively. If they have a big lead over you, it is proper to go all out for the pack.

Suppose, for example, that the opponents have about 4600 points and that you have about 3200. Your plan is to play for the pack. Your first discard is the queen, matching the card discarded by your right-hand opponent.

Everybody knows the importance of matching the discards of your left-hand opponent, but only a few good players know that it often pays to match the first discard or two of the player at your right. The discard tells him nothing about your hand.

He got by you safely with his discard but probably cannot repeat it, for it is unlikely that he broke up a pair or a trio. Hence he must venture into unknown territory for his next discard. Make him guess often enough and he'll sometimes guess wrong.

At your next turn you may discard one of the kings. You want to leave room in your hand to accumulate more pairs. Moreover, your opponent may decide it is safe to throw a king at his next turn. At your third turn, you will discard the black three. By this time you should have a fair idea of what it is safe to throw. If necessary, you will throw the rest of your kings in order to keep pairs of low cards.

If your plot works successfully, you will win the discard pile fairly quickly. You have a fair chance to earn a big score.

Now suppose that the scores are reversed: you have 4600 points, while the opponents have 3200. Now you don't dream of discarding a king. You will build your hand up, meld fairly early, and play for one canasta and a fast out. It would be foolish to gamble for a big score and lose a game that is practically within your grasp.

Three-Alarm Fire

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—A three-alarm fire lighted the skies over Jamaica, Queens, early today for more than an hour and a half before it was brought under control. The fire, of undetermined origin, started in an empty coal pocket of the Henry G. Fleer Coal and Fuel Oil Co., 179-02 93rd avenue, police said. The firm is located next to the Long Island Rail Road freight yards in that area. There was no immediate estimate of damage.

$23 Million Sought

Paris, Sept. 22 (AP)—The American Joint Distribution Committee (AJDC) seeks $23,500,000 to aid Jews in Europe and the Middle East next year. Moses A. Leavitt, executive vice-chairman, told reporters yesterday that this was the minimum requirement to meet the committee's needs. The funds are to be collected through the United Jewish Appeal largely in the United States. AJDC's 1951 budget was $22,650,000.

Catch Dope Suspect

Milan, Italy, Sept. 22 (AP)—Police last night arrested Jose Pici, suspected member of an international dope ring in a north Italian village. They had been trailing him since early June when Rome authorities and U. S. narcotic officials smashed a drug peddling organization.

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Sept. 22 (AP)—Yugoslavia charged Romania last night with two more border violations and accused her Cominform neighbor of trying to promote war in the Balkans.

NEW KIND OF CAN

Something for which the canning industry has been searching for many years has been found, according to the claims of a Virginia manufacturer. It is a substitute for the tin can. Scarcities of metals in periods of war have caused trouble for canners, and this is the chief reason for wanting a substitute.

Glass jars were used to a considerable extent during the recent war. These had the great advantage, at least for the consumer, that the contents could be seen, and also were potentially useful as containers after being emptied. The industry found them less advantageous, however, as they presented handling difficulties in the canning plant and were subject to breakage between cannery and customer, besides being more costly.

The new container appears to be as near an approach to a tin can as could be achieved by something else. It is made of aluminum foil and plastic, matching the tin can in shape, type of seal and ability to withstand rough handling. It looks like a tin can expect for the differences in material. At first thought this might seem to offer little advantage of availability over the tin can, as aluminum is also in great demand, although not as high-priced as tin. The future outlook for aluminum supply, however, is much better, as the output of this metal is constantly expanding and ores seem to be plentiful.

The maker claims another advantage for the new can, which could be important in the long run. He says that the materials in it can be reclaimed, almost fully. The steel and tin in the tin can are almost a total loss, when the can has been used once, since the process of reclaiming the metals is so difficult and costly that it is resorted to only in the most dire shortage. If a satisfactory reclaimable can were developed, a prodigious expenditure of steel and tin could be ended.

FUTURE FOOD SUPPLY,

One of the most cheerful pieces of news to come from the world of science in many moons is that enough food can be produced in the world, with present knowledge, to feed four billion persons, more than one and a half times the present world population, and feed them abundantly. This statement, which is not a matter of unanimous agreement among scientists, was made by six Nobel prize winners attending a chemistry conference in New York.

It has been predicted that the population may reach the four-billion mark within another two or three generations. The matter of food supply for this greatly expanded population has been one of grave concern, inasmuch as so large a part of the world's people now exist on inadequate diets. The six high-ranking chemists, enlarging on what they and a few others have said in the past, declared that it would be possible to feed all of the four billions on a healthy and adequate diet.

It might not be what we would regard today as a tasty diet. It would require the growing of more food per acre in America and many other countries, and also the use of different foods. Many rich plant seed crops are now entirely wasted, and chemists know about plants which are fantastically more efficient at converting the sun's energy into food than the ones we commonly eat now.

Some others may continue to predict that before many more years the food supply situation will become acute, perhaps disastrous. But the record of the past seems to support the more optimistic view. As far as the physical maintenance of life is concerned, the human race has so far been equal to the problems of its day.

Bill Klem, who doubtless was as well known as any umpire ever was in American baseball, had made a remark which was often quoted around the diamonds. "I never called one wrong," he had said. He knew as well as anyone that no umpire could work for thirty-six years in the big leagues without making a mistake or two, and when pressed on the point he once explained that he meant he never stood on a call which he didn't honestly believe was right

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

"MY SIX CONVICTS"

Years and years ago, when I was a young fellow still at college, I got me a job with an outfit called "The National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor." That experience whetted my appetite for this gruesome subject, so that I often read books which relate themselves to prisons and prisoners.

During those years, I read deeply in the subject of penology and came in contact with some very remarkable men who either were seeking to change prison systems or who had been convicts. Once when I needed some tutoring in a few difficult subjects, a brilliant ex-convict, a man of the most profound learning, aided me. Not all convicts are bad men, although most have a foolish side; not all bad men are in jail.

So, I read a book called "My Six Convicts," by Donald Powell Wilson, described as a psychologist who had studied convicts at Fort Leavenworth Penitentiary. The author says:

"Out of deference to my administrators and colleagues whom I held in great respect, and to the prisoners themselves, six of who comprised my regular staff of assistants, I have indulged literary license in the use of names, places and dates, and in the development of some of the episodes recorded. . . ."

Well, I did not get excited about this book one way or the other until I read an article by Louis Messolonghites on "My Six Convicts" in "The Prison World," the official publication of the American Prison Association and National Jail Association. The aforesaid Louis Messolonghites I know well in King Features and regard him as capable of meticulous accuracy.

So Messolonghites wrote of "My Six Convicts":

". . . Dr. Wilson says in his preface that the book is partly fictional, although the book's jacket claims that all of the events actually occurred, including the safecracker's holiday."

He wrote:

"Dr. Wilson spent 20 months, not three years, at Fort Leavenworth.

"No prisoner was stabbed to death in the prison yard, as described on page 32.

"Wilson claims to have given a psychological examination to Al Capone. Capone was never in Fort Leavenworth.

"The safecracker incident—shades of Jimmy Valentine — did not take place at Fort Leavenworth, and it is doubtful if that ever happened in any prison.

"There was no prison break at Fort Leavenworth as Wilson says.

"His description of Fort Leavenworth's physical plant is inaccurate; with it he has mixed some features of the Joliet Penitentiary."

E. R. Cass, general secretary, the American Prison Association, and James V. Bennett, director, United States Bureau of Prisons, also oppose the book. Cass said:

". . . The acceptance of the book by a guilible public is deplorable and a source of discouragement to those who have brought the federal prison system to a high level of operation and leadership. . . ."

Bennett said:

"Much of the book is devoted to pulling out old chestnuts and repeating a few canards which Dr. Wilson in his utter naivete acceptance as fact and all of the melodramatics are pure fiction put together in true Hollywood, grade B routine, style. The book is replete with fanciful stories, not one of which is true or has any basis in fact. . . ."

Stanley M. Rinehart, Jr., the publisher of this book, who is a very competent man, quotes to me in rebuttal the following:

"In case you didn't read Austin MacCormick's review in the June issue of 'Federal Probation," he says among other things,

"'There is no question that the book has helped create a more favorable climate for correctional progress. I am continually being asked by laymen what I think of the book, and invariably find that they enjoyed reading it and that their attitude toward prisoners as a whole and toward what prisons can accomplish in the way of rehabilitation has been decidedly changed for the better by reading it.'"

John Selby, editor-in-chief of the publishing house, says:

". . . Wilson at no point ever claimed that his book was a minutely accurate history of his service at Leavenworth, and I don't believe it is fair to judge him or the book as if this claim had been made."

I conclude that this book is not a psychological or a sociological study but is a journalistic fictional effort with a prison background. Therefore, while it is interesting, I can not take it seriously.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

THE IRRITABLE COLON—LARGE BOWEL

While "itis" at the end of a word means "inflammation of," in the case of colitis (inflammation of the lining of the colon) it really means irritation of, rather than the true inflammation with temperature and pus which is called ulcerative colitis.

Most of these cases of simple colitis do not result in severe illness, nevertheless it is a mental and physical hazard as the patient is troubled with diarrhea at times and other times by spastic constipation.

While infection and eating rough or raw foods do irritate the colon and cause symptoms mentioned above, physicians are now agreed that the great majority of cases of simple or mucous colitis are caused by emotional disturbances.

In American Medical Journal, Dr. T. P. Almy reports experimental studies on 50 healthy persons and 100 persons with irritable colon who were studied by direct observation of the colon by means of the proctoscope and by use of an instrument (kymoscope) which records the pressure in a rubber or latex balloon in the lower colon at the same time as the person or patient is interviewed concerning his feeling and observation of expressions of emotions. Stress (emotional stress) was brought on in some by a hand in ice water or compression of the head with a metal band. Disturbance in the mobility or movements of the colon were found regularly in association with conflicts between feelings of hostility and resentment and feelings of guilt and self-reproach.

A striking finding from these experiments, convincingly demonstrated, is that an increase in tone or strength of the contractions in the lower end of the colon (sigmoid) is associated with outspoken or public display of hostility and aggression while a decrease in tone or strength of the contractions is associated with behavior showing hopelessness and defeat. From these strong contractions on the one hand we can understand the spastic constipation which prevents wastes passing through the colon and then the weak contractions which show discouragement, hopelessness and defeat, causing laxness of the walls of the colon and so diarrhea.

"Such alteration in mood of the individual appears to be of importance in the production of spastic constipation and functional diarrhea."

If these emotional individuals can, from their religion or philosophy, develop calmness of spirit, their colitis will disappear.

No, but We Can Still Vote

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington — By accident a spokesman for the army engineers let slip the basic reason for the tragic failure to control floods in the Missouri valley. He admitted that the army engineers are opposed to the Missouri Valley Authority.

The admission has given Maj. Gen. Lewis A. Pick, chief of army engineers, catfits. For, as a loyal army officer, he is not supposed to differ with his commander-in-chief in the White House. The difference is that General Pick and the army engineers take the side of the big private utilities and want flood-control dams for flood control and navigation only. However, thousands of farmers object to giving up their land for dams and reservoirs unless the dams also pay for themselves by generating electric power.

This is the Missouri Valley Authority plan—similar to TVA—but exactly what the private utilities and the army engineers do not want.

The army engineers' position leaked officially during a flood control hearing at which Congressman Clare Magee of Missouri asked Col. B. C. Snow, boss engineer for the upper Mississippi river valley: "Isn't it true that your chief of engineers, General Pick, is opposed to the Missouri Valley Authority?"

"Then I am opposed to it, too," snapped Snow in reply.

"That's what I thought," muttered Magee. "You boys are . . . just a bunch of Charley McCarthys, aren't you?"

"No, sir, we are loyal," said Snow, beginning to squirm under the blunt interrogation.

Magee: "You are loyal, yes, and loyalty means that you follow the leader."

Snow: "Yes, sir."

Magee: "What do you think about the Tennessee Valley Authority (on which the MVA is patterned)? Don't you think that's been successful in stopping floods and providing power for the people of southern states?"

Snow: "I have read articles in the newspapers indicating that the TVA is successful, and I have no knowledge to the contrary."

Magee: "Yes, but you don't want the Missouri Valley Authority, do you?

Snow: "No, sir."

Magee: "Because General Pick is against it?"

Snow: "Well, I have my own mind, too. My mind agrees with General Pick's thoughts."

The quite confused colonel was finally excused from the witness stand after this parting shot by Magee: "The private power companies not only of Missouri, but throughout the United States, are opposed to the MVA and I think I can definitely state that the army engineers are under the influence of the private power companies."

The Leaning Pagoda

The leaning pagoda of Soochow, China, was first built in the year 601. Within a few years it began to lean to the right and continued to do so until 1428 when it was destroyed by an invading enemy. Eight years before Columbus sailed to the New World, the pagoda was rebuilt in 1484. Although great care was taken not to repeat the mistake of its original builders, it soon began to lean in the opposite direction. One of the great wonders of China, it has now leaned for an additional 467 years.

Cops May Talk Yet

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—The Brooklyn rackets probing grand jury is set to question some of the 18 defendants in the police graft trial who went free after bookie Harry Gross balked at talking. It was revealed yesterday that one of the accused cops, Patrolman Edmund Duncan, 32, had ignored a request to appear before the grand jury. Duncan, a suspended plainclothesman, has never appeared before the panel. But Kings County District Attorney Miles F. McDonald said Duncan will be subpoenaed to appear Monday, and that others of the 18 are expected to be called later. The freed defendants, although they cannot be tried on the same charges, could be indicted on different charges if evidence was available.

Jacoby on Canasta

Study Rule to Follow for This Hand

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The nature of your hand usually dictates the kind of campaign you must wage. Sometimes, however, the state of the score makes you switch from one plan to another. Your own score is important, but you must also consider the score of the opponents.

Suppose the turn-up card is a king, which is refused by the player at your right. He draws from the stock and discards a queen. You draw from the stock and then hold: Joker A-A K-K-K Q 6 4-4 3-2.

Your correct course depends on the score. If neither side is above 4000 points, you have a pretty good play for the pack. If you have a big lead over the opponents, you should play the hand conservatively. If they have a big lead over you, it is proper to go all out for the pack.

Suppose, for example, that the opponents have about 4600 points and that you have about 3200. Your plan is to play for the pack. Your first discard is the queen, matching the card discarded by your right-hand opponent.

Everybody knows the importance of matching the discards of your left-hand opponent, but only a few good players know that it often pays to match the first discard or two of the player at your right. The discard tells him nothing about your hand.

He got by you safely with his discard but probably cannot repeat it, for it is unlikely that he broke up a pair or a trio. Hence he must venture into unknown territory for his next discard. Make him guess often enough and he'll sometimes guess wrong.

At your next turn you may discard one of the kings. You want to leave room in your hand to accumulate more pairs. Moreover, your opponent may decide it is safe to throw a king at his next turn. At your third turn, you will discard the black three. By this time you should have a fair idea of what it is safe to throw. If necessary, you will throw the rest of your kings in order to keep pairs of low cards.

If your plot works successfully, you will win the discard pile fairly quickly. You have a fair chance to earn a big score.

Now suppose that the scores are reversed: you have 4600 points, while the opponents have 3200. Now you don't dream of discarding a king. You will build your hand up, meld fairly early, and play for one canasta and a fast out. It would be foolish to gamble for a big score and lose a game that is practically within your grasp.

Three-Alarm Fire

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—A three-alarm fire lighted the skies over Jamaica, Queens, early today for more than an hour and a half before it was brought under control. The fire, of undetermined origin, started in an empty coal pocket of the Henry G. Fleer Coal and Fuel Oil Co., 179-02 93rd avenue, police said. The firm is located next to the Long Island Rail Road freight yards in that area. There was no immediate estimate of damage.

The funds are to be collected through the United Jewish Appeal largely in the United States. AJDC's 1951 budget was $22,650,000.

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Tomorrow officially is the first day of autumn. At 3:38 p. m. (EST), says Robert R. There is a possibility, Coles added, that at the point of equinox the sun can be seen simultaneously from both the North and South Poles, since it will be on the horizon.

Section 1. Pursuant to a recommendation by Mayor Newkirk, under date of September 6, 1951, and to a formal determination by the Board of Public Works, dated September 4, 1951, and in order to effect a complete separation of the sanitary and storm wastes, including additional shaft and separate flow compartments in the tunnel, in the vicinity of Washington Avenue and Elizabeth Street, the City's sewer systems are hereby authorized to be further improved at an estimated maximum cost of $28,000, in addition to the $30,000 heretofore appropriated by a bond and capital note ordinance of the City adopted November 28, 1950. The estimate of the maximum cost of said object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto, is $28,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor to the Department of Public Works. The plan of financing includes the sum of $1,608.27 from budgetary appropriation and the issuance of capital notes in the amount of $1,891.73 to provide at least 12% down payment required by law for the current year and the issuance of serial bonds in the amount of $24,500 to finance the remainder of the appropriation and the levy of taxes upon all the taxable real property in the City in amounts sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the said notes and bonds.

Sec. 2. Capital notes of the City in the principal amount of $1,891.73 and serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $24,500 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, as amended.

The City Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to withdraw the said sum of $1,608.27 from said budget appropriation and to set aside the proceeds of the sale of said capital notes and to apply said budget appropriation and the proceeds of the said capital notes to the improvements described in Section 1 hereof.

(c) No part of the cost of the improvements authorized by this ordinance has been or shall be specially assessed on property specially benefited thereby.

Do You Remember

BY
SOPHIE MILLER

Little does one think now when passing a hemlock tree how important it was back in the old "Tannery days" in the Catskills. According to H. A. Haring, in his "Our Catskill Mts." He says, "As lumber, the hemlock was not highly valuable in those days. Its wood splintered when worked. It is porous and fit for use only as rough lumber, for purposes such as barns and outbuildings, docking, roadways, etc. The ice houses which dot the Hudson beyond the limits of salt water just above Poughkeepsie and all the way to Albany, were built of hemlock. For ice houses, hemlock, proved to be particularly well adapted, owing to its superior qualities of insulation. The wood is of low specific gravity and highly porous, and moreover, is excellent for outdoor exposure without paint. The knots are small and tight."

Two lumber yards in Kingston made a specialty of hemlock; but the demand was never active enough to absorb the entire quantity that might have been sawed out of the Catskill forests. "Not one per cent of the hemlock timber was ever moved a foot from the spot where the trees fell."

He further goes on to say, "The Plank toll road from Kingston to Pine Hill was repaired each year during the tannery days. Sections were occasionally replanked. For this purpose three inch hemlock was used, the current price being $5 per 1,000 b.f., delivered alongside the road. The price of hemlock, delivered in Kingston was about $12 per 1,000 b.f. The Plank road furnished about the only market for hemlock lumber there was at the time, the magnificent sum of $5 per 1,000 feet being paid for hemlock planks."

To a very limited extent, too, hemlock planks were used for other roads in the region. It came to be the custom to "plank" short sections of public road at spots where the "bottom was soft," and, at many localities, the "dugways" were similarly improved (a "dugway" seems to be a local term to indicate a portion of a road cut out from the overhanging bank.) Farmers themselves often used hemlock plank, more frequently the "slabs" from a sawmill, to build the "lane" from public road to the farmhouse.

The usefulness of the hemlock did not stop there. For he goes on to say: Fortunate, indeed, is the modern possessor of a farm where they were used. For the road-planks, now being completely rotted, the owner finds the intermingled hemlock humus and soil to be a perfect fertilizer for all those trees and shrubs which require an "acid" soil. Carted to a modern "city man's cottage" this material forms a most perfect foundation for lawns and shrubbery.

The bark of course was used for tanning of leather and much of the trees rotted away because no one needed all of them. At the time, Shandaken was the center of this bark-peeling period. Who knows more about it?

HOME BUREAU

Two New Units Are Organized

Two new Home Bureau units were organized in this county last week, bringing the total number of units and study clubs to 56, a new all-time high, it was announced today by Miss Everice Parsons, county home demonstration agent.

The new units are the Bloomingdale unit, which meets at Bloomington under its chairman, Mrs. Walter Hilterbrandt of Maple Hill, and the Olive unit, with headquarters at West Shokan. Chairman of the Olive unit is Mrs. William Frankle of West Shokan. Both units held organizational meetings on September 11.

The Bloomingdale unit, which took its name from an old church at Bloomington, has already had its first classes in stuffed animals and toys and in sewing for beginners. The Olive unit's first lesson was on beginning sewing instructions and concentrated on the making of aprons. Both new units are sending leaders to county training schools on most projects.

The Ulster County Home Bureau, with a 1951 membership of 1,819, is continuing to increase despite a slight drop in the state membership. Memberships for 1952 are now being accepted.

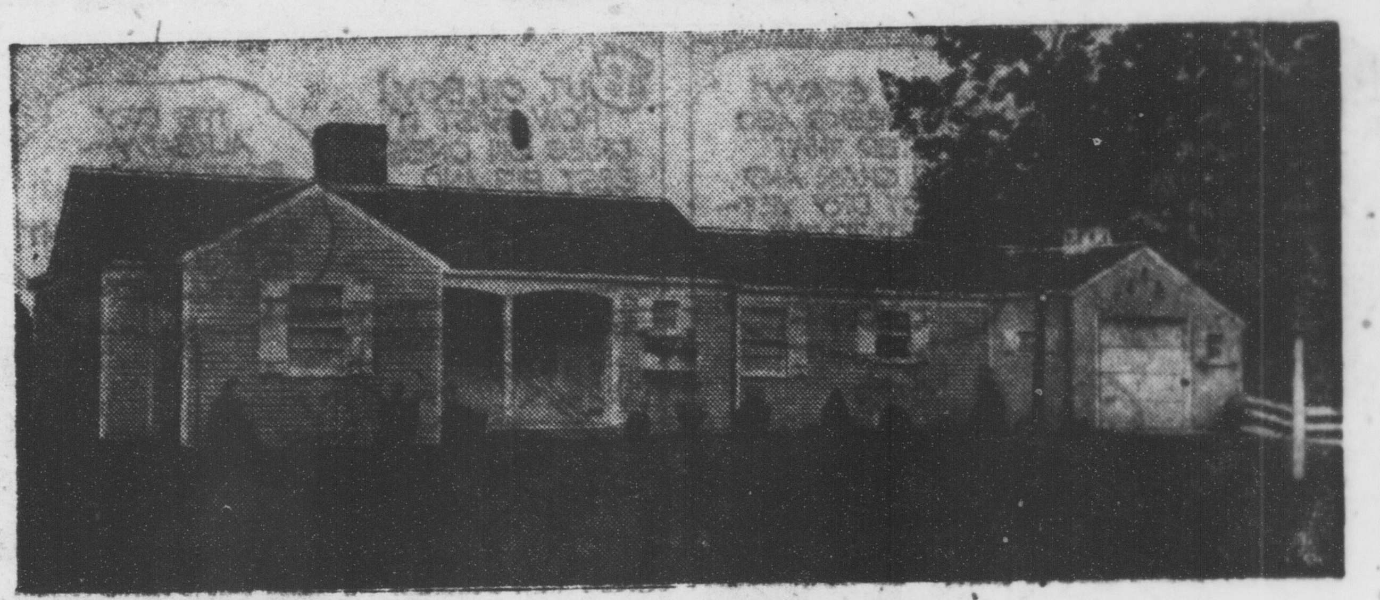
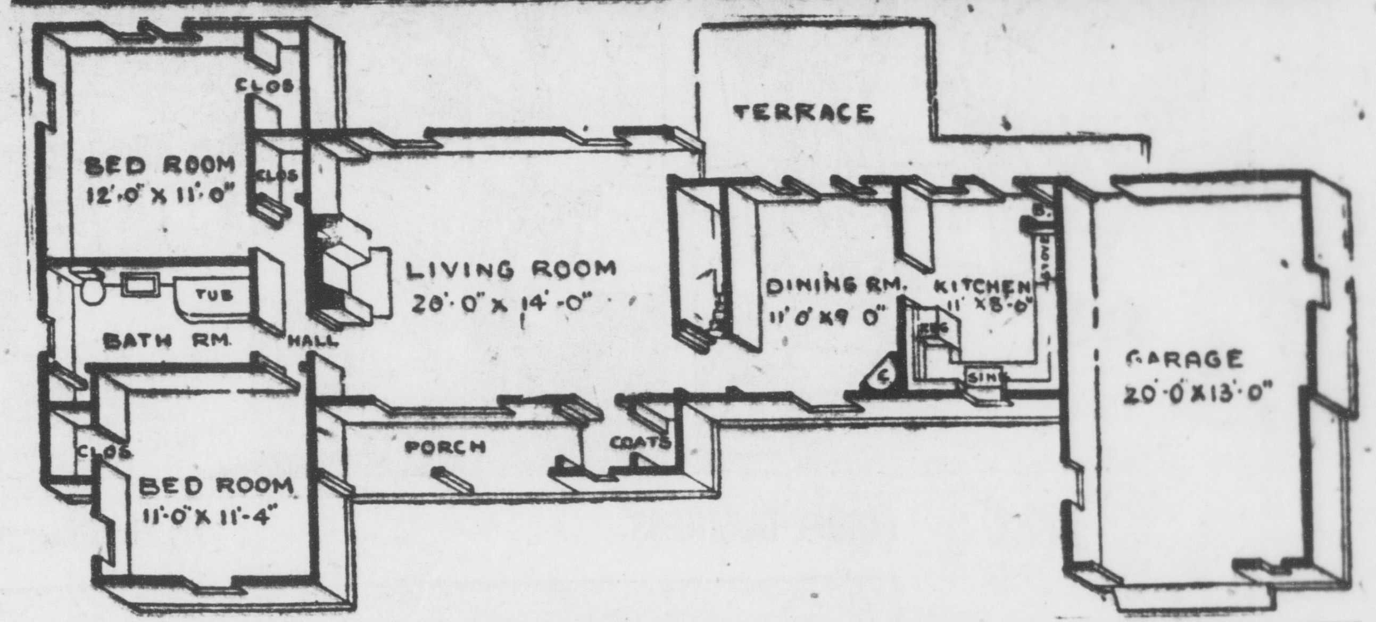
THE ALTON





Ranch Style, Air of New England Farmhouse

Rooms	five
Bedrooms	two
Closets	six
Cubage	21,600 ft.
Dimensions	70' x 30'

With overall dimensions of 70' x 30' this house would require a good sized lot, one at least 80 feet wide.

Shutters are coming back into their own once more, although they do owe their present day popularity to their decorative abilities. In the Alton the shutters form the perfect frame for the old-fashioned paneled windows. Shutters and paneled windows are used in the garage, too, and help to tie the house and garage together as one decorative unit.

The front door opens to the right off the porch and leads into a good sized entry hall. A large coat closet occupies about one-third of the hall area and makes an ideal spot to hang guests' wraps.

From the entry hall you walk directly into the extra-large living room which measures 20 by 14 feet. Well-lighted by two windows in the back wall and the one large picture window that looks out on the front porch, the living room also boasts a large fireplace in the left wall.

A doorway in the back right corner of the living room opens on the terrace.

Cellar stairs separate the living room and dining room which is 11 by 9 feet. A glazed door from the dining room also looks out on the terrace and here again a French door would be both practical and decorative. Windows flanking this door help to bring daylight and sunshine into the dining room.

Against the long unbroken left wall would make an excellent location for your long buffet. You'll find the built-in cabinet in the corner, where the front and right walls join, will come in mighty handy for storing your fine china ware; the cabinet enables you to use this lovely china to increase the decorative appeal of the dining room.

Kitchen Well Placed

The kitchen is conveniently placed next to the dining room, an arrangement that saves many valuable steps and much precious time both when the table is being set and when the dishes are being cleared away. Working counters, with cabinets above and below, are arranged in an L extending from the refrigerator, next to the doorway leading from the dining room, along the front wall and up the right wall to the stove.

Breakfast Nook

There is a broom closet, convenient for storing an assortment of cleaning materials and equipment, located in the right back corner of the room—just a few steps from the glazed back entrance. Measuring 11 by 8 feet 6 inches, the kitchen has ample space in the left back corner for a cozy little breakfast nook. The window in the back wall will provide sufficient light and sunshine for the area and give a more cheerful and pleasant atmosphere to the breakfast nook.

The terrace may be partly covered if desired. A doorway from this protected terrace opens in the back of the garage so that it isn't necessary to actually go out into the cold or wet when entering or leaving the garage. Large enough in which to store screens, garden tools, etc., the garage is 20 by 13 feet, and receives plenty of daylight through its three windows.

Both bedrooms and the all-modern bathroom are located in the projecting left wing of the house and are connected by a straight central hallway. There is an abundance of storage in this section of the house, for each bedroom, boasts an extra-large closet; there is another large closet opening off the hallway, and a smaller closet in the bathroom.

Cross Ventilation

Measuring 12 by 11 feet, the back bedroom has two back windows and one in the side wall, assuring you of sufficient cross ventilation and sunshine. The front bedroom, 11 by 11 feet 4 inches, also offers the benefits of cross ventilation and sunshine. The front bedroom, 11 by 11 feet 4 inches, also offers the benefits of cross ventilation for it has one window in the front wall and another in the left wall.

Both bedrooms are large enough to accommodate twin beds and either one could be used for the master bedroom. There is also sufficient unbroken wall area in both rooms for installing bunk beds for the small fry.

If you're building on a budget you'll appreciate the money-saving fact that a cellar is required only under the living room.

(Complete plans and specifications for the Alton or any other home in this series are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents write to the Home Building Editor, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. Now Is the Time to Check Windows and Doors

Sticking doors or windows usually require refitting or repair, and the home owner will find spring the ideal time to make repairs of this nature.

Doors and windows should also be checked for the following points: Doors out of plumb, requiring refitting or new hardware; advisability of replacing wood panels with glass in doors; defective locks, chains, or bolts, requiring repair or replacement; acquiring extra keys for various locks; broken or defective window cords and pulleys needing replacement; replacing broken window latches or other window devices; cracks around window sash and doors requiring weather-stripping.

Breakfast Nook Proves Aid to Housewife

In houses that have full-sized dining rooms it is frequently desirable to dedicate a corner for a breakfast nook, especially when there are junior members in the family.

The nook should have a built-in cabinet for the breakfast dishes and the children's silverware and dishes. Here also can be kept the electric cooking equipment such as grill, percolator and waffle iron.

A folding table hinged to the wall may be built in. By having a breakfast nook, housework can be lessened and wear and tear on the dining-room furniture lessened.

Autumn Starts Tomorrow

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Tomorrow officially is the first day of autumn. At 3:38 p. m. (EST), says Robert R. Coles, chairman of the Hayden Planetarium, the sun will be at the autumnal equinox—the position where the sun's center crosses the equator, traveling south. There is a possibility, Coles added, that at the point of equinox the sun can be seen simultaneously from both the North and South Poles, since it will be on the horizon.

ADOPTED SEPTEMBER 18TH, 1951, AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION OF FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS TO THE CITY'S SEWER SYSTEMS, APPROPRIATING $28,000 THEREFOR, INCLUDING THE APPROPRIATION OF $1,608.27 AS A PORTION OF THE DOWN PAYMENT, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $1,891.73 CAPITAL NOTES TO MEET THE PORTION OF THE DOWN PAYMENT NOT PROVIDED BY BUDGETARY APPROPRIATION AND THE ISSUANCE OF $24,500 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE THE REMAINDER OF THE APPROPRIATION

THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK, CONVENED IN SPECIAL SESSION, HEREBY ORDAINS (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Pursuant to a recommendation by Mayor Newkirk, under date of September 6, 1951, and to a formal determination by the Board of Public Works, dated September 4, 1951, and in order to effect a complete separation of the sanitary and storm wastes, including additional shaft and separate flow compartments in the tunnel, in the vicinity of Washington Avenue and Elizabeth Street, the City's sewer systems are hereby authorized to be further improved at an estimated maximum cost of $28,000, in addition to the $30,000 heretofore appropriated by a bond and capital note ordinance of the City adopted November 28, 1950. The estimate of the maximum cost of said object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto, is $28,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor to the Department of Public Works. The plan of financing includes the sum of $1,608.27 from budgetary appropriation and the issuance of capital notes in the amount of $1,891.73 to provide at least 12½% down payment required by law for the current year and the issuance of serial bonds in the amount of $24,500 to finance the remainder of the appropriation and the levy of taxes upon all the taxable real property in the City in amounts sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the said notes and bonds.

Sec. 2. Capital notes of the City in the principal amount of $1,891.73 and serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $24,500 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, as amended.

Sec. 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued, within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 4. of said Local Finance Law, is thirty (30) years.

(b) Current funds are required to be provided by said Laws as a down payment prior to the issuance of the bonds hereby authorized or of any notes in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, and such current funds have already been provided in the amount of $1,608.27 by the appropriation in the budget for the fiscal year 1951 under the caption "10% of capital improvements $20,000" and the balance will be provided by the issuance of the capital notes hereby authorized. The City Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to withdraw the said sum of $1,608.27 from said budget appropriation and to set aside the proceeds of the sale of said capital notes and to apply said budget appropriation and the proceeds of the said capital notes to the improvements described in Section 1 hereof.

(c) No part of the cost of the improvements authorized by this ordinance has been or shall be specially assessed on property specially benefited thereby.

Sec. 4. Each of the capital notes and each of the serial bonds authorized by this ordinance or any notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Local Finance Law and said capital notes and said serial bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation as to rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City of Kingston are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said notes and said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budgets of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the notes and bonds to mature in each year and (b) the payment of interest to be due and payable in each year.

Sec. 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and pursuant to §30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of §50.00 and §56.00 to §60.00 of said Local Finance Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to authorizing bond anticipation notes and prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the serial bonds authorized by this ordinance and of any notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds, are hereby delegated to the City [illegible] fiscal officer of the City.

Sec. 6. The validity of the notes and bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Sec. 7. This ordinance shall be published at least twice in the "Kingston Daily Freeman" and in the "Ulster County News and Kingston Leader," together with a notice prescribed by §81.00 of the Local Finance Law, appended by the City Clerk (which newspapers are allied to and support the two political parties which cast the greater number of votes at the preceding general election and are the official newspapers of the City), and shall take effect immediately after such publication.

Do You Remember

BY
SOPHIE MILLER

Little does one think now when passing a hemlock tree how important it was back in the old "Tannery days" in the Catskills. According to H. A. Haring, in his "Our Catskill Mts." He says, "As lumber, the hemlock was not highly valuable in those days. Its wood splintered when worked. It is porous and fit for use only as rough lumber, for purposes such as barns and outbuildings, docking, roadways, etc. The ice houses which dot the Hudson beyond the limits of salt water just above Poughkeepsie and all the way to Albany, were built of hemlock. For ice houses, hemlock, proved to be particularly well adapted, owing to its superior qualities of insulation. The wood is of low specific gravity and highly porous, and moreover, is excellent for outdoor exposure without paint. The knots are small and tight."

Two lumber yards in Kingston made a specialty of hemlock; but the demand was never active enough to absorb the entire quantity that might have been sawed out of the Catskill forests. "Not one per cent of the hemlock timber was ever moved a foot from the spot where the trees fell."

He further goes on to say, "The Plank toll road from Kingston to Pine Hill was repaired each year during the tannery days. Sections were occasionally replanked. For this purpose three inch hemlock was used, the current price being $5 per 1,000 b.f., delivered alongside the road. The price of hemlock, delivered in Kingston was about $12 per 1,000 b.f. The Plank road furnished about the only market for hemlock lumber there was at the time, the magnificent sum of $5 per 1,000 feet being paid for hemlock planks."

To a very limited extent, too, hemlock planks were used for other roads in the region. It came to be the custom to "plank" short sections of public road at spots where the "bottom was soft," and, at many localities, the "dugways" were similarly improved (a "dugway" seems to be a local term to indicate a portion of a road cut out from the overhanging bank.) Farmers themselves often used hemlock plank, more frequently the "slabs" from a sawmill, to build the "lane" from public road to the farmhouse.

The usefulness of the hemlock did not stop there. For he goes on to say: Fortunate, indeed, is the modern possessor of a farm where they were used. For the road-planks, now being completely rotted, the owner finds the intermingled hemlock humus and soil to be a perfect fertilizer for all those trees and shrubs which require an "acid" soil. Carted to a modern "city man's cottage" this material forms a most perfect foundation for lawns and shrubbery.

The bark of course was used for tanning of leather and much of the trees rotted away because no one needed all of them. At the time, Shandaken was the center of this bark-peeling period. Who knows more about it?

HOME BUREAU

Two New Units Are Organized

Two new Home Bureau units were organized in this county last week, bringing the total number of units and study clubs to 56, a new all-time high, it was announced today by Miss Everice Parsons, county home demonstration agent.

The new units are the Bloomingdale unit, which meets at Bloomington under its chairman, Mrs. Walter Hilterbrandt of Maple Hill, and the Olive unit, with headquarters at West Shokan. Chairman of the Olive unit is Mrs. William Frankle of West Shokan. Both units held organizational meetings on September 11.

The Bloomingdale unit, which took its name from an old church at Bloomington, has already had its first classes in stuffed animals and toys and in sewing for beginners. The Olive unit's first lesson was on beginning sewing instructions and concentrated on the making of aprons. Both new units are sending leaders to county training schools on most projects.

The Ulster County Home Bureau, with a 1951 membership of 1,819, is continuing to increase despite a slight drop in the state membership. Memberships for 1952 are now being accepted.

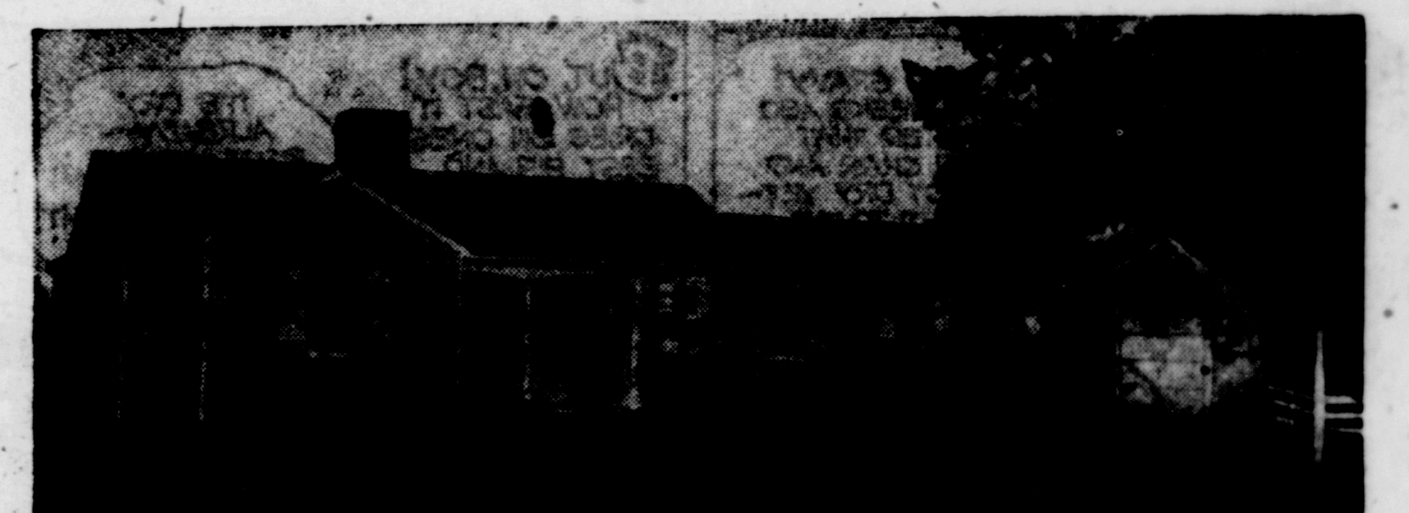
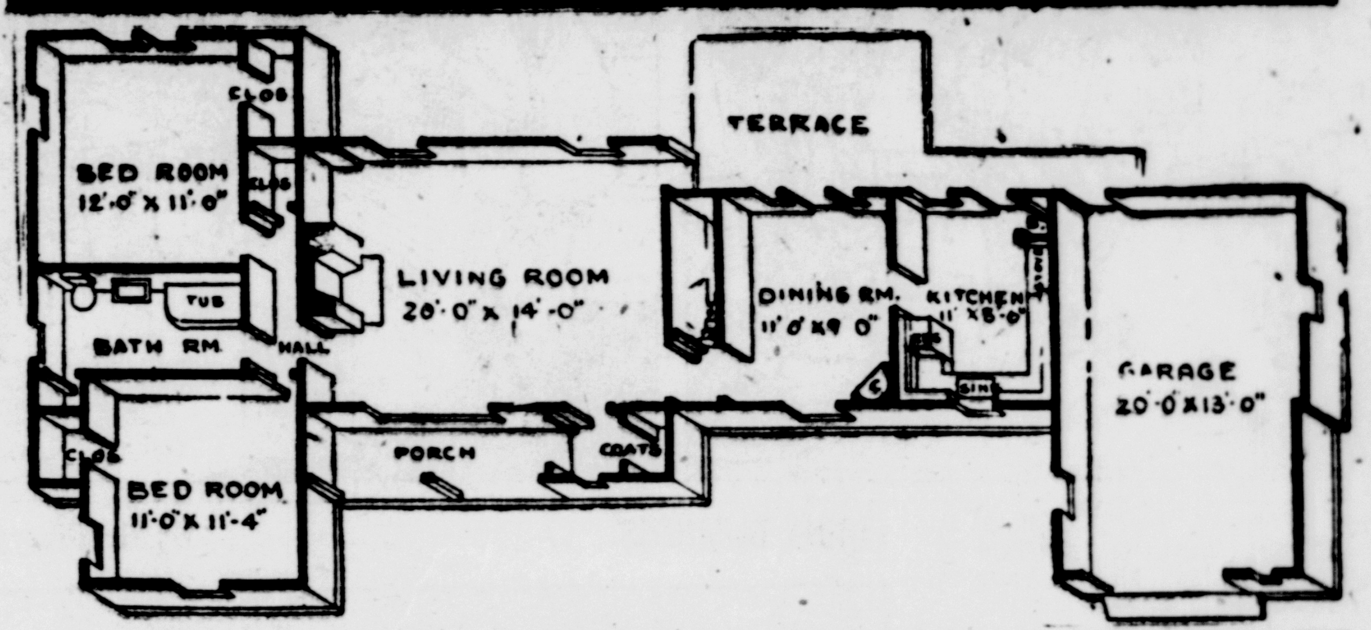
THE ALTON





Ranch Style, Air of New England Farmhouse

Rooms	five
Bedrooms	two
Closets	six
Cubage	21,600 ft.
Dimensions	70' x 30'

With overall dimensions of 70' x 30' this house would require a good sized lot, one at least 80 feet wide.

Shutters are coming back into their own once more, although they do owe their present day popularity to their decorative abilities. In the Alton the shutters form the perfect frame for the old-fashioned paneled windows. Shutters and paneled windows are used in the garage, too, and help to tie the house and garage together as one decorative unit.

The front door opens to the right off the porch and leads into a good sized entry hall. A large coat closet occupies about one-third of the hall area and makes an ideal spot to hang guests' wraps.

From the entry hall you walk directly into the extra-large living room which measures 20 by 14 feet. Well-lighted by two windows in the back wall and the one large picture window that looks out on the front porch, the living room also boasts a large fireplace in the left wall.

A doorway in the back right corner of the living room opens on the terrace.

Cellar stairs separate the living room and dining room which is 11 by 9 feet. A glazed door from the dining room also looks out on the terrace and here again a French door would be both practical and decorative. Windows flanking this door help to bring daylight and sunshine into the dining room.

Against the long unbroken left wall would make an excellent location for your long buffet. You'll find the built-in cabinet in the corner, where the front and right walls join, will come in mighty handy for storing your fine china ware; the cabinet enables you to use this lovely china to increase the decorative appeal of the dining room.

Kitchen Well Placed

The kitchen is conveniently placed next to the dining room, an arrangement that saves many valuable steps and much precious time both when the table is being set and when the dishes are being cleared away. Working counters, with cabinets above and below, are arranged in an L extending from the refrigerator, next to the doorway leading from the dining room, along the front wall and up the right wall to the stove.

Breakfast Nook

There is a broom closet, convenient for storing an assortment of cleaning materials and equipment, located in the right back corner of the room—just a few steps from the glazed back entrance. Measuring 11 by 8 feet 6 inches, the kitchen has ample space in the left back corner for a cozy little breakfast nook. The window in the back wall will provide sufficient light and sunshine for the area and give a more cheerful and pleasant atmosphere to the breakfast nook.

The terrace may be partly covered if desired. A doorway from this protected terrace opens in the back of the garage so that it isn't necessary to actually go out into the cold or wet when entering or leaving the garage. Large enough in which to store screens, garden tools, etc.; the garage is 20 by 13 feet, and receives plenty of daylight through its three windows.

Both bedrooms and the all-modern bathroom are located in the projecting left wing of the house and are connected by a straight central hallway. There is an abundance of storage in this section of the house, for each bedroom, boasts an extra-large closet; there is another large closet opening off the hallway, and a smaller closet in the bathroom.

Cross Ventilation

Measuring 12 by 11 feet, the back bedroom has two back windows and one in the side wall, assuring you of sufficient cross ventilation and sunshine. The front bedroom, 11 by 11 feet 4 inches, also offers the benefits of cross ventilation and sunshine. The front bedroom, 11 by 11 feet 4 inches, also offers the benefits of cross ventilation for it has one window in the front wall and another in the left wall.

Both bedrooms are large enough to accommodate twin beds and either one could be used for the master bedroom. There is also sufficient unbroken wall area in both rooms for installing bunk beds for the small fry.

If you're building on a budget you'll appreciate the money-saving fact that a cellar is required only under the living room.

(Complete plans and specifications for the Alton or any other home in this series are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents write to the Home Building Editor, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply).

Now Is the Time to Check Windows and Doors

Sticking doors or windows usually require refitting or repair, and the home owner will find spring the ideal time to make repairs of this nature.

Doors and windows should also be checked for the following points: Doors out of plumb, requiring refitting or new hardware; advisability of replacing wood panels with glass in doors; defective locks, chains, or bolts, requiring repair or replacement; acquiring extra keys for various locks; broken or defective window cords and pulleys needing replacement; replacing broken window latches or other window devices; cracks around window sash and doors requiring weatherstripping.

Breakfast Nook Proves Aid to Housewife

In houses that have full-sized dining rooms it is frequently desirable to dedicate a corner for a breakfast nook, especially when there are junior members in the family.

The nook should have a built-in cabinet for the breakfast dishes and the children's silverware and dishes. Here also can be kept the electric cooking equipment such as grill, percolator and waffle iron.

A folding table hinged to the wall may be built in. By having a breakfast nook, housework can be lessened and wear and tear on the dining-room furniture lessened.

Autumn Starts Tomorrow

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Tomorrow officially is the first day of autumn. At 3:38 p. m. (EST), says Robert R. Coles, chairman of the Hayden Planetarium, the sun will be at the autumnal equinox—the position where the sun's center crosses the equator, traveling south. There is a possibility, Coles added, that at the point of equinox the sun can be seen simultaneously from both the North and South Poles, since it will be on the horizon.

Y., ADOPTED SEPTEMBER 18TH, 1951, AUTHORIZING THE CONSTRUCTION OF FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS TO THE CITY'S SEWER SYSTEMS, APPROPRIATING $28,000 THEREFOR, INCLUDING THE APPROPRIATION OF $1,608.27 AS A PORTION OF THE DOWN PAYMENT, AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $1,891.73 CAPITAL NOTES TO MEET THE PORTION OF THE DOWN PAYMENT NOT PROVIDED BY BUDGETARY APPROPRIATION AND THE ISSUANCE OF $24,500 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY, TO FINANCE THE REMAINDER OF THE APPROPRIATION

THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK, CONVENED IN SPECIAL SESSION, HEREBY ORDAINS (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Pursuant to a recommendation by Mayor Newkirk, under date of September 6, 1951, and to a formal determination by the Board of Public Works, dated September 4, 1951, and in order to effect a complete separation of the sanitary and storm wastes, including additional shaft and separate flow compartments in the tunnel, in the vicinity of Washington Avenue and Elizabeth Street, the City's sewer systems are hereby authorized to be further improved at an estimated maximum cost of $28,000, in addition to the $30,000 heretofore appropriated by a bond and capital note ordinance of the City adopted November 28, 1950. The estimate of the maximum cost of said object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto, is $28,000 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor to the Department of Public Works. The plan of financing includes the sum of $1,608.27 from budgetary appropriation and the issuance of capital notes in the amount of $1,891.73 to provide at least 12% down payment required by law for the current year and the issuance of serial bonds in the amount of $24,500 to finance the remainder of the appropriation and the levy of taxes upon all the taxable real property in the City in amounts sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the said notes and bonds.

Sec. 2. Capital notes of the City in the principal amount of $1,891.73 and serial bonds of the City in the principal amount of $24,500 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, as amended.

Sec. 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of the specific object or purpose for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued, within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 4. of said Local Finance Law, is thirty (30) years.

(b) Current funds are required to be provided by said Laws as a down payment prior to the issuance of the bonds hereby authorized or of any notes in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, and such current funds have already been provided in the amount of $1,608.27 by the appropriation in the budget for the fiscal year 1951 under the caption "10% of capital improvements $20,000" and the balance will be provided by the issuance of the capital notes hereby authorized. The City Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to withdraw the said sum of $1,608.27 from said budget appropriation and to set aside the proceeds of the sale of said capital notes and to apply said budget appropriation and the proceeds of the said capital notes to the improvements described in Section 1 hereof.

(c) No part of the cost of the improvements authorized by this ordinance has been or shall be specially assessed on property specially benefited thereby.

Sec. 4. Each of the capital notes and each of the serial bonds authorized by this ordinance or any notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by 152.00 of said Local Finance Law and said capital notes and said serial bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation as to rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City of Kingston are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said notes and said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budgets of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the notes and bonds to mature in each year and (b) the payment of interest to be due and payable in each year.

Sec. 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and pursuant to 130.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of 150.00 and 156.00 to 60.00 of said Local Finance Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to authorizing bond anticipation notes and prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the serial bonds authorized by this ordinance and of any notes authorized and issued [illegible] of said bonds, are hereby delegated to the City [illegible] officer of the City.

Sec. 6. The validity of the notes and bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Sec. 7. This ordinance shall be published at least twice in the "Kingston Daily Freeman" and in the "Ulster County News and Kingston Leader," together with a notice prescribed by 181.00 of the Local Finance Law, appended by the City Clerk (which newspapers are allied to and support the two political parties which cast the greater number of votes at the preceding general election and are the official newspapers of the City), and shall take effect immediately after such publication.

Do You Remember

BY
SOPHIE MILLER

Little does one think now when passing a hemlock tree how important it was back in the old "Tannery days" in the Catskills. According to H. A. Haring, in his "Our Catskill Mts." He says, "As lumber, the hemlock was not highly valuable in those days. Its wood splintered when worked. It is porous and fit for use only as rough lumber, for purposes such as barns and outbuildings, docking, roadways, etc. The ice houses which dot the Hudson beyond the limits of salt water just above Poughkeepsie and all the way to Albany, were built of hemlock. For ice houses, hemlock, proved to be particularly well adapted, owing to its superior qualities of insulation. The wood is of low specific gravity and highly porous, and moreover, is excellent for outdoor exposure without paint. The knots are small and tight."

Two lumber yards in Kingston made a specialty of hemlock; but the demand was never active enough to absorb the entire quantity that might have been sawed out of the Catskill forests. "Not one per cent of the hemlock timber was ever moved a foot from the spot where the trees fell."

He further goes on to say, "The Plank toll road from Kingston to Pine Hill was repaired each year during the tannery days. Sections were occasionally replanked. For this purpose three inch hemlock was used, the current price being $5 per 1,000 b.f., delivered alongside the road. The price of hemlock, delivered in Kingston was about $12 per 1,000 b.f. The Plank road furnished about the only market for hemlock lumber there was at the time, the magnificent sum of $5 per 1,000 feet being paid for hemlock planks."

To a very limited extent, too, hemlock planks were used for other roads in the region. It came to be the custom to "plank" short sections of public road at spots where the "bottom was soft," and, at many localities, the "dugways" were similarly improved (a "dugway" seems to be a local term to indicate a portion of a road cut out from the overhanging bank.) Farmers themselves often used hemlock plank, more frequently the "slabs" from a sawmill, to build the "lane" from public road to the farmhouse.

The usefulness of the hemlock did not stop there. For he goes on to say: Fortunate, indeed, is the modern possessor of a farm where they were used. For the road-planks, now being completely rotted, the owner finds the intermingled hemlock humus and soil to be a perfect fertilizer for all those trees and shrubs which require an "acid" soil. Carted to a modern "city man's cottage" this material forms a most perfect foundation for lawns and shrubbery.

The bark of course was used for tanning of leather and much of the trees rotted away because no one needed all of them. At the time, Shandaken was the center of this bark-peeling period. Who knows more about it?

HOME BUREAU

Two New Units Are Organized

Two new Home Bureau units were organized in this county last week, bringing the total number of units and study clubs to 56, a new all-time high, it was announced today by Miss Everice Parsons, county home demonstration agent.

The new units are the Bloomingdale unit, which meets at Bloomington under its chairman, Mrs. Walter Hilterbrandt of Maple Hill, and the Olive unit, with headquarters at West Shokan. Chairman of the Olive unit is Mrs. William Frankle of West Shokan. Both units held organizational meetings on September 11.

The Bloomingdale unit, which took its name from an old church at Bloomington, has already had its first classes in stuffed animals and toys and in sewing for beginners. The Olive unit's first lesson was on beginning sewing instructions and concentrated on the making of aprons. Both new units are sending leaders to county training schools on most projects.

The Ulster County Home Bureau, with a 1951 membership of 1,819, is continuing to increase despite a slight drop in the state membership. Memberships for 1952 are now being accepted.

Asks Tougher Law

Westport, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—The State Magistrates Association wants New York to make its narcotics laws tougher on second offenders. The association yesterday adopted a resolution proposing that the penal law be amended to forbid suspension of sentences or probations of narcotics defendants previously convicted of violating any law.

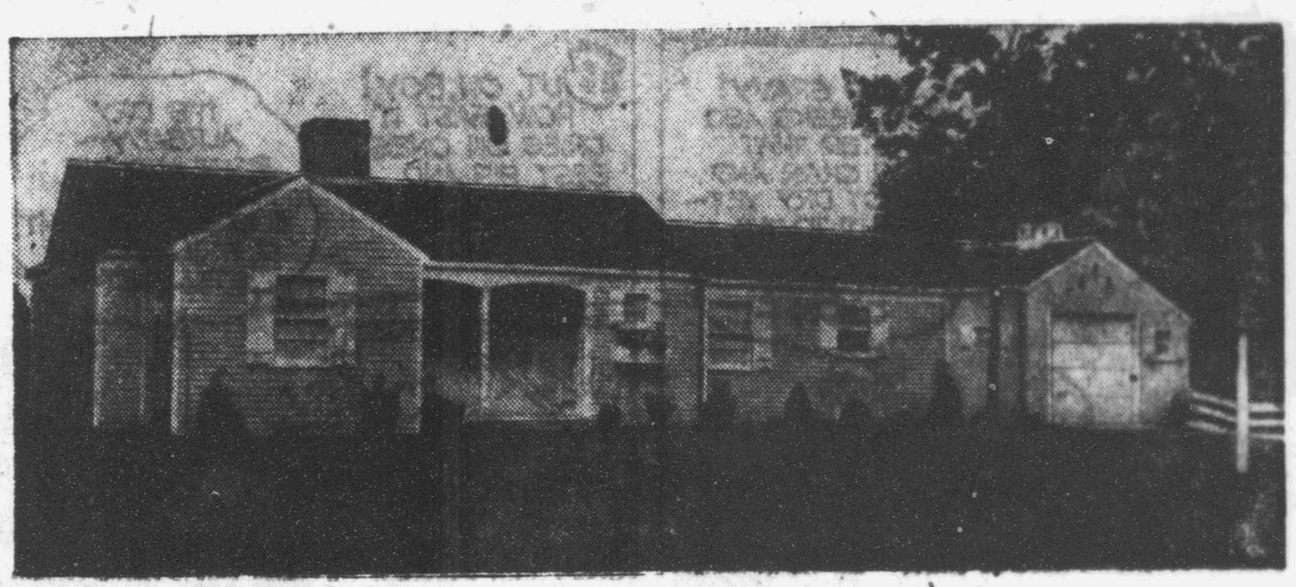
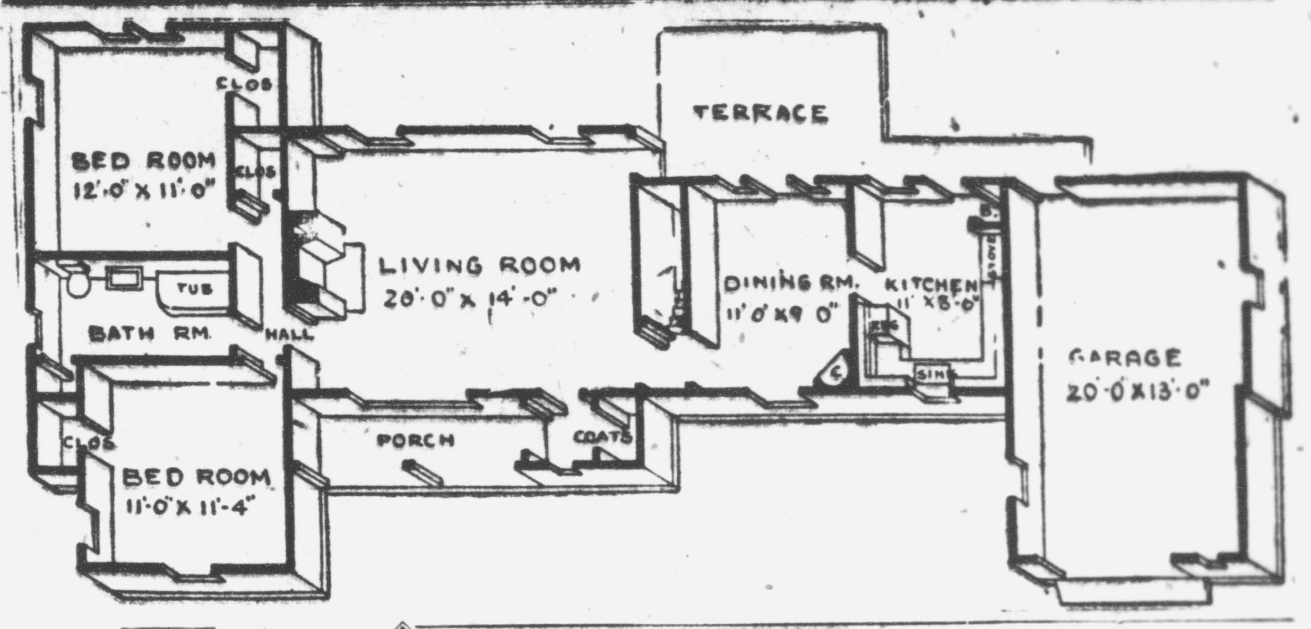
THE ALTON





Ranch Style, Air of New England Farmhouse

Rooms	five
Bedrooms	two
Closets	six
Cubage	21,600 ft.
Dimensions	70' x 30'

With overall dimensions of 70' x 30' this house would require a good sized lot, one at least 80 feet wide.

Shutters are coming back into their own once more, although they do owe their present day popularity to their decorative abilities. In the Alton the shutters form the perfect frame for the old-fashioned paneled windows. Shutters and paneled windows are used in the garage, too, and help to tie the house and garage together as one decorative unit.

The front door opens to the right off the porch and leads into a good sized entry hall. A large coat closet occupies about one-third of the hall area and makes an ideal spot to hang guests' wraps.

From the entry hall you walk directly into the extra-large living room which measures 20 by 14 feet. Well-lighted by two windows in the back wall and the one large picture window that looks out on the front porch, the living room also boasts a large fireplace in the left wall.

Cellar stairs separate the living room and dining room which is 11 by 9 feet. A glazed door from the dining room also looks out on the terrace and here again a French door would be both practical and decorative. Windows flanking this door help to bring daylight and sunshine into the dining room.

Against the long unbroken left wall would make an excellent location for your long buffet. You'll find the built-in cabinet in the corner, where the front and right walls join, will come in mighty handy for storing your fine china ware; the cabinet enables you to use this lovely china to increase the decorative appeal of the dining room.

Kitchen Well Placed

The kitchen is conveniently placed next to the dining room, an arrangement that saves many valuable steps and much precious time both when the table is being set and when the dishes are being cleared away. Working counters, with cabinets above and below, are arranged in an L extending from the refrigerator, next to the doorway leading from the dining room, along the front wall and up the right wall to the stove.

Breakfast Nook

There is a broom closet, convenient for storing an assortment of cleaning materials and equipment, located in the right back corner of the room—just a few steps from the glazed back entrance. Measuring 11 by 8 feet 6 inches, the kitchen has ample space in the left back corner for a cozy little breakfast nook. The window in the back wall will provide sufficient light and sunshine for the area and give a more cheerful and pleasant atmosphere to the breakfast nook.

The terrace may be partly covered if desired. A doorway from this protected terrace opens in the back of the garage so that it isn't necessary to actually go out into the cold or wet when entering or leaving the garage. Large enough in which to store screens, garden tools, etc., the garage is 20 by 13 feet, and receives plenty of daylight through its three windows.

Both bedrooms and the all-modern bathroom are located in the projecting left wing of the house and are connected by a straight central hallway. There is an abundance of storage in this section of the house, for each bedroom, boasts an extra-large closet; there is another large closet opening off the hallway, and a smaller closet in the bathroom.

Cross Ventilation

Measuring 12 by 11 feet, the back bedroom has two back windows and one in the side wall, assuring you of sufficient cross ventilation and sunshine. The front bedroom, 11 by 11 feet 4 inches, also offers the benefits of cross ventilation and sunshine. The front bedroom, 11 by 11 feet 4 inches, also offers the benefits of cross ventilation for it has one window in the front wall and another in the left wall.

Both bedrooms are large enough to accommodate twin beds and either one could be used for the master bedroom. There is also sufficient unbroken wall area in both rooms for installing bunk beds for the small fry.

If you're building on a budget you'll appreciate the money-saving fact that a cellar is required only under the living room.

(Complete plans and specifications for the Alton or any other home in this series are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents write to the Home Building Editor, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a 3-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply).

Now Is the Time to Check Windows and Doors

Sticking doors or windows usually require refitting or repair, and the home owner will find spring the ideal time to make repairs of this nature.

Doors and windows should also be checked for the following points: Doors out of plumb, requiring refitting or new hardware; advisability of replacing wood panels with glass in doors; defective locks, chains, or bolts, requiring repair or replacement; acquiring extra keys for various locks; broken or defective window cords and pulleys needing replacement; replacing broken window latches or other window devices; cracks around window sash and doors requiring weather-stripping.

Breakfast Nook Proves Aid to Housewife

In houses that have full-sized dining rooms it is frequently desirable to dedicate a corner for a breakfast nook, especially when there are junior members in the family.

The nook should have a built-in cabinet for the breakfast dishes and the children's silverware and dishes. Here also can be kept the electric cooking equipment such as grill, percolator and waffle iron.

A folding table hinged to the wall may be built in. By having a breakfast nook, housework can be lessened and wear and tear on the dining-room furniture lessened.

The Liberty Bell has been removed from Independence Hall in Philadelphia on nine occasions since 1776. Most of these were for exhibitions in other cities except in 1777, when it was hidden in an Allentown, Pa., church to keep it out of British hands.

Freligh - Culloton Are Picked as Starters

Old Timers Play Sunday at 2:30

Big Ted Freligh, more than once a nemesis of local baseball batters, will get the starting call from Manager Les Brink of the Saugerties Old Timers in their game against the Kingston Old Timers Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Athletic Field.

Freligh will probably draw as his mound foe either Bud Culloton or Eddie Scherer.

Other flingers on the Saugerties roster include Howie Fluhr, Stan Butykins, Jimmy Martin, Harold Swart and George Swart. Fluhr is making the trip from Richmond Hill to appear with the Saugerties club.

Available for mound duty at the call of co-managers Joe Hoffman and Tommy Davitt of the Kingston nine will be Jim Volker, Dewey Van Buren, Walt Black, Eddie Baker, Bill Thomas and Jack Doyle.

Sunday's contest will be played in honor of Walt Black, former pitching standout of this city.

Three Tied for Lead

Reading, Pa., Sept. 22 (AP)—Sixty-one professionals and 11 amateurs, half of the original starting field, today plunge into the third round of the fifth annual $15,000 Reading Open golf tournament. Tied for the lead at the midway point was the par-busting trio of Jack Burke, Jr., Jim Turnesa and Jimmy Clark with 139's, three under par for 36 holes. Par for the 6,000 yard heavily-trapped Erkleigh Country Club course with narrow fairways is 35-36—71.

Annual Horse Show Scheduled Sunday By Lowlands Club

A full program of events beginning at 10 a. m., and continuing until the final event at 5 o'clock will feature the second annual Lowlands Riding Club horse show Sunday at Spring Lake, off Lucas avenue.

All horses on the grounds will participate in a grand entry parade scheduled to get the show underway about 10 o'clock.

Each event after the entry parade will go on at 20 minute intervals until the final event at 5 o'clock.

Many outstanding and working stock horses will be exhibited during the day's show.

Winners in each division will receive trophies while ribbons will go to runnerups.

According to Joe McNierney, show superintendent, entries for Sunday's show have arrived from area riders and from many others from 50 to 100 miles outside Kingston.

Aqueduct Finale Today

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Fourteen of the turf's top fillies go postward today in the 13th running of the $50,000 added Beldame Handicap at Aqueduct. The mile and one-eighth test, which will gross $67,900 if all 14 face the starter, winds up the 18-day fall meeting at the Queens County Jockey Club course. On Monday the sport shifts to Belmont Park. Handicapper Jack Campbell has assigned top weight of 126 pounds to Calumet Farm's Wistful, making her 1951 eastern state debut after a successful campaign on Chicago tracks.

1½ Game Margin Best Since Aug. 1

By JOHN CHANDLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The New York Yankees, gunning for their third straight American League pennant, sported a one and one-half game lead today over the Cleveland Indians—their largest margin since Aug. 1.

With the schedule rapidly running out, Casey Stengel's Bronx Bombers belted the Red Sox at Boston yesterday, 5 to 1, while the Indians were fumbling a game to the Tigers in Detroit, 7 to 6.

The same four clubs hook up in the same locality this afternoon and Sunday, when the final week of the hectic season begins.

For the Yankees, the "magic number" is six. New York has eight games remaining—seven of them with the Red Sox. If the Yankees can win six, Cleveland could cop all five of its remaining contests, but still would wind up in second place. The Red Sox are five games back, hanging on the mathematical edge of elimination.

Phils Club Dodgers

Meanwhile in the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers were clubbed by the Philadelphia Phillies at Ebbets Field, 9 to 6, as Robin Roberts hung up his 21st victory of the year. The defeat left the front-running Dodgers four games ahead of the idle New York Giants.

Brooklyn has nine more games to play, the Giants seven. The Bums can clinch the flag with five victories, even if the Giants win all seven.

Apparently the Yankee and Dodger front offices are fully expecting a 10 cents subway series, for both have put World Series tickets on sale.

Returning to the cold, hard facts in the American loop, if anyone is to stop the Yankees it must be Boston. Stengel put it bluntly yesterday after Allie Reynolds pitched New York to its first victory over the Sox in nine games at Fenway Park this season.

"That's only one game," Casey said. "We got eight to go."

After Sunday's finale, New York returns home to play one game with Philadelphia Tuesday, and winds up with doubleheaders against Boston Friday and Saturday, and a single game with the Red Sox on Sunday, the final day.

Cleveland goes to Chicago from Detroit for a single game with the White Sox Tuesday, then returns home to play single games with Detroit Saturday and Sunday.

Stengel called on Ed Lopat to face Boston's Mel Parnell in a battle of lefthanders today. Lopat hit the 20-win mark for the first time in his career Monday when he beat Cleveland with three hits. He's 20-8 for the year, and 2-1 against Boston. Parnell, stylish Boston ace with a 17-9 mark, is 3-1 against New York. Boston still holds a commanding 10-5 edge over the Yanks in season play.

Al Lopez, the Cleveland manager, will send Bob Lemon (17-13) against Detroit's Bob Cain (11-12).

Lopez Confident

"We're not out of it yet," said Lopez. "Remember, the Yanks have seven tough games with the Red Sox."

Joe DiMaggio, back in the cleanup spot for the Yankees, lined a single to center in the first inning yesterday to score Yogi Berra and New York was out in front to stay. Four singles gave New York its second tally in the next inning.

Boston put on its major threat in the last of the fourth. John Pesky and Ted Williams singled, and Clyde Vollmer doubled off the wall in left. Pesky scored, but Williams was out at the plate on a throw by Hank Bauer. Then Reynolds, who gave up just six hits, bore down and got out of trouble. He subdued Boston threats again in the sixth and eighth innings.

Feller Blows Lead

Bob Feller, seeking his 23rd victory for Cleveland, blew a 5-0 lead to Detroit. Catcher Frank House hit his first major league homer to win the game in the sixth.

Ike Boone's three-run homer capped the big Cleveland second inning. But Feller dished up a two-run homer to Dick Kryhoski in the last half of the inning. The Tigers routed Feller in the third inning as a walk, two hits and an error permitted Detroit to tie the score.

Freddie Hutchinson, who relieved starter Ted Gray for Detroit in the second inning, was in complete control in the seven and two-thirds innings he pitched, giving up only two hits for his tenth victory.

With Willie Jones banging a grand-slam homer in the first inning at Brooklyn, the Phillies ended the four-game winning streak of rookie Clem Labine who was knocked from the box for the first time in five major league starts.

Another rookie, young Jackie Collum—just up from Rochester—tossed a brilliant two-hitter for the Cardinals against the Chicago Cubs at St. Louis, for a 6-0 shutout.

No other games were scheduled in either league.

New York—Eddie Compo, 134, New Haven, Conn., outpointed Chico Vejar, 138¾, Hartford, Conn. (10).

City Tenpin Group Will Meet Today To Plan Tourney

Local Bowling officials, representing the special state tournament committee, were scheduled to meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock with James A. Burns of Elmira at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Burns was the tournament manager for last year's 26th annual New York State Bowling Association tournament held in Elmira.

Several phases for next year's state tournament scheduled for this city will be discussed with Burns at today's session.

Representing the local tournament group will be Addison Jones, tournament manager; Joe Magnino, president of the Kingston Bowling Association; Gil Sampson, Hod Spaulding, Charles Tiano, District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn and Irwin J. Thomas, secretary of the KBA.

Lions-Tigers Cancel Game Due to Polio

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Columbia and Princeton Universities will play only eight football games this season as the result of the cancellation of their opening encounter Sept. 29 because two Lions' players are suffering from polio.

Columbia decided yesterday to cancel the game after Bernard Jansson, an end, and Donald Page, a tackle, were taken to Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital where their illness was diagnosed as poliomyelitis.

Both players became ill at Columbia's Lakeside, Conn., training camp. They are 21-year old seniors.

Batted at .385 Clip During Year For Wiltwyck Club

Tommy Carlino Places Second on Ballots

Augie Passante, third baseman of Wiltwyck Motors, was selected as the most valuable player in the City Baseball League Friday night.

The balloting took place during a special league meeting in the city court room presided over by Joe Kelly, president.

Managers casting ballots during the voting were George Magley, acting manager of Boulevard Gulf; Joe Hoffman, Chez Emile; Frank Stauble, Old Capital Motors, and Jack "Daisy" Schatzel, Jones Dairy.

Passante, hitting at a fancy .385 clip in 11 games during the 1951 campaign, was picked over Tommy Carlino, shortstop of Jones Dairy, in a close race for top honors.

The 1951 MVP who makes his home in Highland, scored nine runs, collected 15 hits in 39 trips to the plate, collected three doubles and knocked in three runs.

Absent from the voting last night were Billy Ball, Morgan's Merchants; Ferrell McElrath, Wiltwyck Motors and Joe Watzka, Ferraro's Bowlodrome.

Meanwhile, plans were going ahead today for the continuation of the post-season Shaughnessy playoffs next Sunday afternoon, Sept. 30.

Boulevard currently holds a 2-1 edge in the playoffs with Jones Dairy.

Set for Double Duty

Hamilton, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Don Stewart, a 201-pound senior, may play both offensive and defensive right guard on the Colgate football team. Stewart, whose home is in Suffern, originally had been slated for defensive service only. And, he now appears to be the best man for the offense. His substitute on offense will be Bill Rowe of Melrose, Mass., and on defense, Jack Shaughnessy of Rye.

Freligh - Culloton Are Picked as Starters

Old Timers Play Sunday at 2:30

Big Ted Freligh, more than once a nemesis of local baseball batters, will get the starting call from Manager Les Brink of the Saugerties Old Timers in their game against the Kingston Old Timers Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Athletic Field.

Freligh will probably draw as his mound foe either Bud Culloton or Eddie Scherer.

Other flingers on the Saugerties roster include Howie Fluhr, Stan Butykins, Jimmy Martin, Harold Swart and George Swart. Fluhr is making the trip from Richmond Hill to appear with the Saugerties club.

Available for mound duty at the call of co-managers Joe Hoffman and Tommy Davitt of the Kingston nine will be Jim Volker, Dewey Van Buren, Walt Black, Eddie Baker, Bill Thomas and Jack Doyle.

Sunday's contest will be played in honor of Walt Black, former pitching standout of this city.

Features of Show

Grace Williamson's team of Arabian high-schooled horses get a fast workout under the tutelage of a trainer. The horses will be one of the attractions at the second annual horse show sponsored by the Lowlands Riding Club at Spring Lake Sunday. The show starts at 10 a. m.

Annual Horse Show Scheduled Sunday By Lowlands Club

A full program of events beginning at 10 a. m., and continuing until the final event at 5 o'clock will feature the second annual Lowlands Riding Club horse show Sunday at Spring Lake, off Lucas avenue.

All horses on the grounds will participate in a grand entry parade scheduled to get the show underway about 10 o'clock.

Each event after the entry parade will go on at 20 minute intervals until the final event at 5 o'clock.

Many outstanding and working stock horses will be exhibited during the day's show.

One of the big features will be the appearance of Grace Williamson and her team of white Arabian high-schooled horses.

Winners in each division will receive trophies while ribbons will go to runnerups.

According to Joe McNierney, show superintendent, entries for Sunday's show have arrived from area riders and from many others from 50 to 100 miles outside Kingston.

Aqueduct Finale Today

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Fourteen of the turf's top fillies go postward today in the 13th running of the $50,000 added Beldame Handicap at Aqueduct. The mile and one-eighth test, which will gross $67,900 if all 14 face the starter, winds up the 18-day fall meeting at the Queens County Jockey Club course. On Monday the sport shifts to Belmont Park. Handicapper Jack Campbell has assigned top weight of 126 pounds to Calumet Farm's Wistful, making her 1951 eastern state debut after a successful campaign on Chicago tracks.

Lions-Tigers Cancel Game Due to Polio

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Columbia and Princeton Universities will play only eight football games this season as the result of the cancellation of their opening encounter Sept. 29 because two Lions' players are suffering from polio.

Columbia decided yesterday to cancel the game after Bernard Jansson, an end, and Donald Page, a tackle, were taken to Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital where their illness was diagnosed as poliomyelitis.

Both players became ill at Columbia's Lakeside, Conn., training camp. They are 21-year old seniors.

1½ Game Margin Best Since Aug. 1

By JOHN CHANDLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The New York Yankees, gunning for their third straight American League pennant, sported a one and one-half game lead today over the Cleveland Indians—their largest margin since Aug. 1.

With the schedule rapidly running out, Casey Stengel's Bronx Bombers belted the Red Sox at Boston yesterday, 5 to 1, while the Indians were fumbling a game to the Tigers in Detroit, 7 to 6.

The same four clubs hook up in the same locality this afternoon and Sunday, when the final week of the hectic season begins.

For the Yankees, the "magic number" is six. New York has eight games remaining—seven of them with the Red Sox. If the Yankees can win six, Cleveland could cop all five of its remaining contests, but still would wind up in second place. The Red Sox are five games back, hanging on the mathematical edge of elimination.

	W	L	Pct.	GB	GL
New York	92	54	.630	..	8
Cleveland	92	57	.617	1½	5
Boston	86	58	.597	5	10

Phils Club Dodgers

Meanwhile in the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers were clubbed by the Philadelphia Phillies at Ebbets Field, 9 to 6, as Robin Roberts hung up his 21st victory of the year. The defeat left the front-running Dodgers four games ahead of the idle New York Giants.

Brooklyn has nine more games to play, the Giants seven. The Bums can clinch the flag with five victories, even if the Giants win all seven.

Apparently the Yankee and Dodger front offices are fully expecting a 10 cents subway series, for both have put World Series tickets on sale.

Returning to the cold, hard facts in the American loop, if anyone is to stop the Yankees it must be Boston. Stengel put it bluntly yesterday after Allie Reynolds pitched New York to its first victory over the Sox in nine games at Fenway Park this season.

"That's only one game," Casey said. "We got eight to go."

After Sunday's finale, New York returns home to play one game with Philadelphia Tuesday, and winds up with doubleheaders against Boston Friday and Saturday, and a single game with the Red Sox on Sunday, the final day.

Cleveland goes to Chicago from Detroit for a single game with the White Sox Tuesday, then returns home to play single games with Detroit Saturday and Sunday.

Stengel called on Ed Lopat to face Boston's Mel Parnell in a battle of lefthanders today. Lopat hit the 20-win mark for the first time in his career Monday when he beat Cleveland with three hits. He's 20-8 for the year, and 2-1 against Boston. Parnell, stylish Boston ace with a 17-9 mark, is 3-1 against New York. Boston still holds a commanding 10-5 edge over the Yanks in season play.

Al Lopez, the Cleveland manager, will send Bob Lemon (17-13) against Detroit's Bob Cain (11-12).

Lopez Confident

"We're not out of it yet," said Lopez. "Remember, the Yanks have seven tough games with the Red Sox."

Joe DiMaggio, back in the cleanup spot for the Yankees, lined a single to center in the first inning yesterday to score Yogi Berra and New York was out in front to stay. Four singles gave New York its second tally in the next inning.

Boston put on its major threat in the last of the fourth. John Pesky and Ted Williams singled, and Clyde Vollmer doubled off the wall in left. Pesky scored, but Williams was out at the plate on a throw by Hank Bauer. Then Reynolds, who gave up just six hits, bore down and got out of trouble. He subdued Boston threats again in the sixth and eighth innings.

Feller Blows Lead

Bob Feller, seeking his 23rd victory for Cleveland, blew a 5-0 lead to Detroit. Catcher Frank House hit his first major league homer to win the game in the sixth.

Ike Boone's three-run homer capped the big Cleveland second inning. But Feller dished up a two-run homer to Dick Kryhoski in the last half of the inning. The Tigers routed Feller in the third inning as a walk, two hits and an error permitted Detroit to tie the score.

Freddie Hutchinson, who relieved starter Ted Gray for Detroit in the second inning, was in complete control in the seven and two-thirds innings he pitched, giving up only two hits for his tenth victory.

With Willie Jones banging a grand-slam homer in the first inning at Brooklyn, the Phillies ended the four-game winning streak of rookie Clem Labine who was knocked from the box for the first time in five major league starts.

Another rookie, young Jackie Collum—just up from Rochester—tossed a brilliant two-hitter for the Cardinals against the Chicago Cubs at St. Louis, for a 6-0 shutout.

No other games were scheduled in either league.

New York—Eddie Compo, 134, New Haven, Conn., outpointed Chico Vejar, 138¾, Hartford, Conn. (10).

Batted at .385 Clip During Year For Wiltwyck Club

Tommy Carlino Places Second on Ballots

Augie Passante, third baseman of Wiltwyck Motors, was selected as the most valuable player in the City Baseball League Friday night.

Managers casting ballots during the voting were George Magley, acting manager of Boulevard Gulf; Joe Hoffman, Chez Emile; Frank Stauble, Old Capital Motors, and Jack "Daisy" Schatzel, Jones Dairy.

Passante, hitting at a fancy .385 clip in 11 games during the 1951 campaign, was picked over Tommy Carlino, shortstop of Jones Dairy, in a close race for top honors.

The 1951 MVP who makes his home in Highland, scored nine runs, collected 15 hits in 39 trips to the plate, collected three doubles and knocked in three runs.

Absent from the voting last night were Billy Ball, Morgan's Merchants; Ferrell McElrath, Wiltwyck Motors and Joe Watzka, Ferraro's Bowlodrome.

Meanwhile, plans were going ahead today for the continuation of the post-season Shaughnessy playoffs next Sunday afternoon, Sept. 30.

Boulevard currently holds a 2-1 edge in the playoffs with Jones Dairy.

Set for Double Duty

Hamilton, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Don Stewart, a 201-pound senior, may play both offensive and defensive right guard on the Colgate football team. Stewart, whose home is in Suffern, originally had been slated for defensive service only. And, he now appears to be the best man for the offense. His substitute on offense will be Bill Rowe of Melrose, Mass., and on defense, Jack Shaughnessy of Rye.

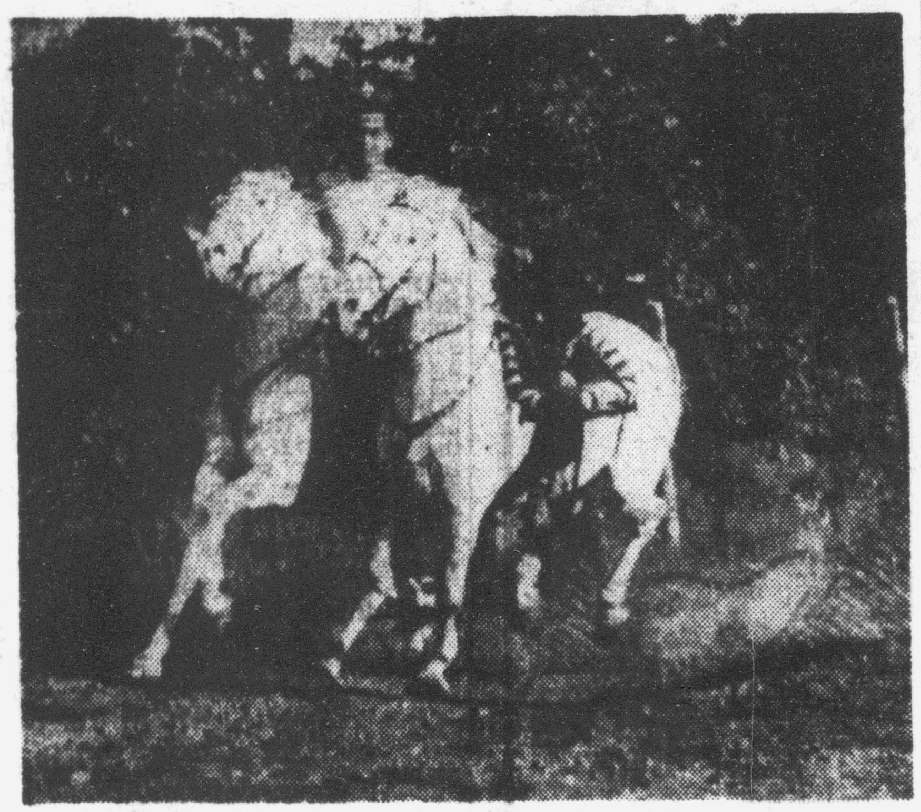
Features of Show



Grace Williamson's team of Arabian high-schooled horses get a fast workout under the tutelage of a trainer. The horses will be one of the attractions at the second annual horse show sponsored by the Lowlands Riding Club at Spring Lake Sunday. The show starts at 10 a. m.

Annual Horse Show Scheduled Sunday By Lowlands Club

A full program of events beginning at 10 a. m., and continuing until the final event at 5 o'clock will feature the second annual Lowlands Riding Club horse show Sunday at Spring Lake, off Lucas avenue.

All horses on the grounds will participate in a grand entry parade scheduled to get the show underway about 10 o'clock.

Each event after the entry parade will go on at 20 minute intervals until the final event at 5 o'clock.

Many outstanding and working stock horses will be exhibited during the day's show.

One of the big features will be the appearance of Grace Williamson and her team of white Arabian high-schooled horses.

Winners in each division will receive trophies while ribbons will go to runnerups.

According to Joe McNierney, show superintendent, entries for Sunday's show have arrived from area riders and from many others from 50 to 100 miles outside Kingston.

Aqueduct Finale Today

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Fourteen of the turf's top fillies go postward today in the 13th running of the $50,000 added Beldame Handicap at Aqueduct. The mile and one-eighth test, which will gross $67,900 if all 14 face the starter, winds up the 18-day fall meeting at the Queens County Jockey Club course. On Monday the sport shifts to Belmont Park. Handicapper Jack Campbell has assigned top weight of 126 pounds to Calumet Farm's Wistful, making her 1951 eastern state debut after a successful campaign on Chicago tracks.

Lions-Tigers Cancel Game Due to Polio

New York, Sept. 22 (AP)—Columbia and Princeton Universities will play only eight football games this season as the result of the cancellation of their opening encounter Sept. 29 because two Lions' players are suffering from polio.

Columbia decided yesterday to cancel the game after Bernard Jansson, an end, and Donald Page, a tackle, were taken to Columbia-Presbyterian Hospital where their illness was diagnosed as poliomyelitis.

Both players became ill at Columbia's Lakeside, Conn., training camp. They are 21-year old seniors.

1½ Game Margin Best Since Aug. 1

By JOHN CHANDLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The New York Yankees, gunning for their third straight American League pennant, sported a one and one-half game lead today over the Cleveland Indians—their largest margin since Aug. 1.

With the schedule rapidly running out, Casey Stengel's Bronx Bombers belted the Red Sox at Boston yesterday, 5 to 1, while the Indians were fumbling a game to the Tigers in Detroit, 7 to 6.

The same four clubs hook up in the same locality this afternoon and Sunday, when the final week of the hectic season begins.

For the Yankees, the "magic number" is six. New York has eight games remaining—seven of them with the Red Sox. If the Yankees can win six, Cleveland could cop all five of its remaining contests, but still would wind up in second place. The Red Sox are five games back, hanging on the mathematical edge of elimination.

	W	L	Pct.	GB	GL
New York	92	54	.630	..	8
Cleveland	92	57	.617	1½	5

Phils Club Dodgers

Meanwhile in the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers were clubbed by the Philadelphia Phillies at Ebbets Field, 9 to 6, as Robin Roberts hung up his 21st victory of the year. The defeat left the front-running Dodgers four games ahead of the idle New York Giants.

Brooklyn has nine more games to play, the Giants seven. The Bums can clinch the flag with five victories, even if the Giants win all seven.

Apparently the Yankee and Dodger front offices are fully expecting a 10 cents subway series, for both have put World Series tickets on sale.

Returning to the cold, hard facts in the American loop, if anyone is to stop the Yankees it must be Boston. Stengel put it bluntly yesterday after Allie Reynolds pitched New York to its first victory over the Sox in nine games at Fenway Park this season.

"That's only one game," Casey said. "We got eight to go."

After Sunday's finale, New York returns home to play one game with Philadelphia Tuesday, and winds up with doubleheaders against Boston Friday and Saturday, and a single game with the Red Sox on Sunday, the final day.

Cleveland goes to Chicago from Detroit for a single game with the White Sox Tuesday, then returns home to play single games with Detroit Saturday and Sunday.

Stengel called on Ed Lopat to face Boston's Mel Parnell in a battle of lefthanders today. Lopat hit the 20-win mark for the first time in his career Monday when he beat Cleveland with three hits. He's 20-8 for the year, and 2-1 against Boston. Parnell, stylish Boston ace with a 17-9 mark, is 3-1 against New York. Boston still holds a commanding 10-5 edge over the Yanks in season play.

Al Lopez, the Cleveland manager, will send Bob Lemon (17-13) against Detroit's Bob Cain (11-12).

Lopez Confident

"We're not out of it yet," said Lopez. "Remember, the Yanks have seven tough games with the Red Sox."

Joe DiMaggio, back in the cleanup spot for the Yankees, lined a single to center in the first inning yesterday to score Yogi Berra and New York was out in front to stay. Four singles gave New York its second tally in the next inning.

Boston put on its major threat in the last of the fourth. John Pesky and Ted Williams singled, and Clyde Vollmer doubled off the wall in left. Pesky scored, but Williams was out at the plate on a throw by Hank Bauer. Then Reynolds, who gave up just six hits, bore down and got out of trouble. He subdued Boston threats again in the sixth and eighth innings.

Feller Blows Lead

Bob Feller, seeking his 23rd victory for Cleveland, blew a 5-0 lead to Detroit. Catcher Frank House hit his first major league homer to win the game in the sixth.

Ike Boone's three-run homer capped the big Cleveland second inning. But Feller dished up a two-run homer to Dick Kryhoski in the last half of the inning. The Tigers routed Feller in the third inning as a walk, two hits and an error permitted Detroit to tie the score.

Freddie Hutchinson, who relieved starter Ted Gray for Detroit in the second inning, was in complete control in the seven and two-thirds innings he pitched, giving up only two hits for his tenth victory.

With Willie Jones banging a grand-slam homer in the first inning at Brooklyn, the Phillies ended the four-game winning streak of rookie Clem Labine who was knocked from the box for the first time in five major league starts.

Another rookie, young Jackie Collum—just up from Rochester—tossed a brilliant two-hitter for the Cardinals against the Chicago Cubs at St. Louis, for a 6-0 shutout.

No other games were scheduled in either league.

New York—Eddie Compo, 134, New Haven, Conn., outpointed Chico Vejar, 138¾, Hartford, Conn. (10).

Batted at .385 Clip During Year For Wiltwyck Club

Tommy Carlino Places Second on Ballots

Augie Passante, third baseman of Wiltwyck Motors, was selected as the most valuable player in the City Baseball League Friday night.

Managers casting ballots during the voting were George Magley, acting manager of Boulevard Gulf; Joe Hoffman, Chez Emile; Frank Stauble, Old Capital Motors, and Jack "Daisy" Schatzel, Jones Dairy.

Passante, hitting at a fancy .385 clip in 11 games during the 1951 campaign, was picked over Tommy Carlino, shortstop of Jones Dairy, in a close race for top honors.

The 1951 MVP who makes his home in Highland, scored nine runs, collected 15 hits in 39 trips to the plate, collected three doubles and knocked in three runs.

Absent from the voting last night were Billy Ball, Morgan's Merchants; Ferrell McElrath, Wiltwyck Motors and Joe Watzka, Ferraro's Bowlodrome.

Meanwhile, plans were going ahead today for the continuation of the post-season Shaughnessy playoffs next Sunday afternoon, Sept. 30.

Boulevard currently holds a 2-1 edge in the playoffs with Jones Dairy.

Set for Double Duty

Hamilton, N. Y., Sept. 22 (AP)—Don Stewart, a 201-pound senior, may play both offensive and defensive right guard on the Colgate football team. Stewart, whose home is in Suffern, originally had been slated for defensive service only. And, he now appears to be the best man for the offense. His substitute on offense will be Bill Rowe of Melrose, Mass., and on defense, Jack Shaughnessy of Rye.

Singapore, Sept. 22 (AP)—Britain's dollar-encrusted Singapore, set in the South China Sea, gained official city status today amid the pomp of empire and the clashing color of its mingled races. Before today, this rubber and tin rich city of more than 1,000,000 had been classed as a "town."

WOODSTOCK NEWS

By RICHARD E. THIBAUT, JR.

Ceremony Is Held For Giving Awards To Road Artists

Woodstock, Sept. 21—A unique ceremony took place at the Woodstock Country Club Thursday afternoon, the culmination of a project in which local artists were invited to use a town work project as the subject of a painting or drawing. The entire village has been aware of the vast improvement in the village main street by the recent blacktopping of the road, work for which has been done by the Hudson River Construction Company, Inc.

Fully aware of the large number of artists inhabiting the village, the company sponsored a competition for local artists, inviting them to submit drawings or paintings of various phases of the work in progress. The contest was extended until Friday, Sept. 14, and Thursday afternoon announcement was made at the Country Club of the prize winners during a cocktail party held in their honor.

Anthony J. DeLisio presented the prizes on behalf of the construction company to Elfriede Borkmann, $150 first prize; Ken Thayer, $75, second prize; Peggy Maguire, $25, third prize, and an unannounced honorable mention to Willy Mellin of $25.

List of Judges

Judges for the competition were James S. Bixby, district engineer for District 8, New York State Department of Public Works; Eugene Speicher and William Pachner, eminent artists of Woodstock.

Among the notables who attended the event were Kenneth Wilson, town supervisor; Mr. and Mrs. Grant B. Elwyn, Justice of the Peace and Mrs. George J. Braendly, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Stowell, Attorney John Egan, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Krom, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach.

Kenneth Wilson, town supervisor, spoke of the fine cooperation given by the Hudson River Construction Company, Inc., during the period of operation in the village. In view of the expected influx of visitors over the Labor Day week-end, Wilson requested that work be postponed until the Tuesday following the holiday, which met with the instant approval of the company who postponed work to meet with the holiday conditions.

Good Road for Village

"The reward," according to Wilson, "has been a quickly constructed roadway which vastly improves the appearance of the village, accomplished with good public relations, throughout the duration of the work. I would also like to thank the judges for their participation in the competition."

Elfriede Borkmann, first prize winner, is a member of the Woodstock Artists Association, who came to this village five years ago after winning a scholarship to the Art Students League. She has studied with such prominent artists as Alexander Brook, Jon Corbino and Henry Mattson. Miss Borkmann was also awarded a prize last winter in St. Augustine at the Art Center there.

Ceremony Is Held For Giving Awards To Road Artists

Woodstock, Sept. 21—A unique ceremony took place at the Woodstock Country Club Thursday afternoon, the culmination of a project in which local artists were invited to use a town work project as the subject of a painting or drawing. The entire village has been aware of the vast improvement in the village main street by the recent blacktopping of the road, work for which has been done by the Hudson River Construction Company, Inc.

Fully aware of the large number of artists inhabiting the village, the company sponsored a competition for local artists, inviting them to submit drawings or paintings of various phases of the work in progress. The contest was extended until Friday, Sept. 14, and Thursday afternoon announcement was made at the Country Club of the prize winners during a cocktail party held in their honor.

Anthony J. DeLisio presented the prizes on behalf of the construction company to Elfriede Borkmann, $150 first prize; Ken Thayer, $75, second prize; Peggy Maguire, $25, third prize, and an unannounced honorable mention to Willy Mellin of $25.

List of Judges

Judges for the competition were James S. Bixby, district engineer for District 8, New York State Department of Public Works; Eugene Speicher and William Pachner, eminent artists of Woodstock.

Among the notables who attended the event were Kenneth Wilson, town supervisor; Mr. and Mrs. Grant B. Elwyn, Justice of the Peace and Mrs. George J. Braendly, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Stowell, Attorney John Egan, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Krom, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach.

Kenneth Wilson, town supervisor, spoke of the fine cooperation given by the Hudson River Construction Company, Inc., during the period of operation in the village. In view of the expected influx of visitors over the Labor Day week-end, Wilson requested that work be postponed until the Tuesday following the holiday, which met with the instant approval of the company who postponed work to meet with the holiday conditions.

Good Road for Village

"The reward," according to Wilson, "has been a quickly constructed roadway which vastly improves the appearance of the village, accomplished with good public relations, throughout the duration of the work. I would also like to thank the judges for their participation in the competition."

Elfriede Borkmann, first prize winner, is a member of the Woodstock Artists Association, who came to this village five years ago after winning a scholarship to the Art Students League. She has studied with such prominent artists as Alexander Brook, Jon Corbino and Henry Mattson. Miss Borkmann was also awarded a prize last winter in St. Augustine at the Art Center there.

Memoriam

In memory of our son and brother, William E. Bovee, who passed away 11 years ago, Sept. 22, 1940.

Today recalls the memory,

The ones who think of him today
Are the ones who loved him best.

MOTHER, SISTERS and BROTHERS

Memoriam

In loving memory of Jeannette Severson, who passed away two years ago today, September 22, 1949.

Beyond the sunset there's a land
Where skies are always blue.
Where everyday is bright and fair
Where dreams will all come true.
And at those Golden Portals
That grace the Golden Shore
Loved ones who have said goodbye
Will meet to part no more.

MOTHER, DAD,
SISTERS & BROTHERS

Memoriam

In loving memory of William W. Dunbar, who entered eternal rest September 23, 1950.

What I would give to see your smile,
And sit with you and talk awhile.
The blow was sudden; the shock severe,
To part with you, so kind and dear.
Day and night I think of you,
The things you used to say and do.
I wonder why you had to die,
Without a chance to say goodbye.
God bless you and keep you.

Truckers Contest

nance and construction.

The tax ranges from 0.6 cents a mile to 2.4 cents on either the loaded or unladen weight of trucks weighing more than 18,000 pounds.

It has been estimated the levy will bring the state $20,000,000 revenue a year.

Would Create Barriers

The truckers, in their suit, claim that the law, if enforced, would "create barriers against New York trucking concerns" in other states.

They said that Vermont, Ohio and Pennsylvania had "enacted retaliatory measures against trucks licensed in New York state because of this law."

The truckers also maintained that the law violated federal constitutional provisions against any one state regulating commerce with any other state and the prohibition against a state laying "imposts or duty on imports or exports."

The tax law, they added, also violates the "due process" clause of the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

The truckers also noted that trucks used exclusively for local deliveries, buses, farm vehicles, mail trucks and government-owned vehicles were exempt from the weight-distance tax.

The truckers claimed this was discrimination. They added it would permit certain vehicles to operate in competition with taxed vehicles without paying the tax.

Brown said the state had 20 days in which to file an answer to the complaint. He said the state would defend the law vigorously.

Fight Getting . . .

together with an inquiry "with respect to his other acts since his election to the Senate."

Asks Withdrawal

McCarthy wrote Hennings last Tuesday suggesting that he withdraw from the rules subcommittee when it acts on Benton's resolution because:

1. Hennings' law firm represents the St. Louis Post Dispatch, which—McCarthy said—had "vigorously condemned the conviction of the 11 Communist leaders" on charges they conspired to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

2. Hennings' law partner, John Raeburn Green, is handling the appeal of John Gates, editor of the Communist Daily Worker and one of the 11 convicted.

Hennings told the Senate McCarthy's letter was "an affront to the honor of the Senate and impugns the integrity of one of the Senate committees."

Making it plain he has no intention of withdrawing from the rules subcommittee, Hennings said Green decided to represent Gates "not for the purpose of aiding Communists or to further communism, but because he believed the court's previous decision in the case was inherently dangerous to the civil liberties guaranteed in our Bill of Rights."

Hennings said the American Bar Association, in the September issue of its journal, had praised Green for taking the case because of the reasons Hennings cited.

MOTHER, SISTERS and BROTHERS

Memoriam

In loving memory of Jeannette Severson, who passed away two years ago today, September 22, 1949.

Beyond the sunset there's a land
Where skies are always blue.
Where everyday is bright and fair
Where dreams will all come true.
And at those Golden Portals
That grace the Golden Shore
Loved ones who have said goodbye
Will meet to part no more.

Memoriam

In loving memory of William W. Dunbar, who entered eternal rest September 23, 1950.

What I would give to see your smile,
And sit with you and talk awhile.
The blow was sudden; the shock severe,
To part with you, so kind and dear.
Day and night I think of you,
The things you used to say and do.
I wonder why you had to die,
Without a chance to say goodbye.
God bless you and keep you.

Truckers Contest

nance and construction.

The tax ranges from 0.6 cents a mile to 2.4 cents on either the loaded or unladen weight of trucks weighing more than 18,000 pounds.

It has been estimated the levy will bring the state $20,000,000 revenue a year.

Would Create Barriers

The truckers, in their suit, claim that the law, if enforced, would "create barriers against New York trucking concerns" in other states.

They said that Vermont, Ohio and Pennsylvania had "enacted retaliatory measures against trucks licensed in New York state because of this law."

The truckers also maintained that the law violated federal constitutional provisions against any one state regulating commerce with any other state and the prohibition against a state laying "imposts or duty on imports or exports."

The tax law, they added, also violates the "due process" clause of the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

The truckers also noted that trucks used exclusively for local deliveries, buses, farm vehicles, mail trucks and government-owned vehicles were exempt from the weight-distance tax.

The truckers claimed this was discrimination. They added it would permit certain vehicles to operate in competition with taxed vehicles without paying the tax.

Brown said the state had 20 days in which to file an answer to the complaint. He said the state would defend the law vigorously.

Fight Getting . . .

Asks Withdrawal

McCarthy wrote Hennings last Tuesday suggesting that he withdraw from the rules subcommittee when it acts on Benton's resolution because:

1. Hennings' law firm represents the St. Louis Post Dispatch, which—McCarthy said—had "vigorously condemned the conviction of the 11 Communist leaders" on charges they conspired to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.

2. Hennings' law partner, John Raeburn Green, is handling the appeal of John Gates, editor of the Communist Daily Worker and one of the 11 convicted.

Hennings told the Senate McCarthy's letter was "an affront to the honor of the Senate and impugns the integrity of one of the Senate committees."

Making it plain he has no intention of withdrawing from the rules subcommittee, Hennings said Green decided to represent Gates "not for the purpose of aiding Communists or to further communism, but because he believed the court's previous decision in the case was inherently dangerous to the civil liberties guaranteed in our Bill of Rights."

Hennings said the American Bar Association, in the September issue of its journal, had praised Green for taking the case because of the reasons Hennings cited.

The inquest, however, has adjourned until next Friday afternoon for further questioning of Wiltwyck School officials. "We are going into some detail to find out how it happened these same boys escaped several times," the district attorney said.

Truckers Contest

nance and construction.

The tax ranges from 0.6 cents a mile to 2.4 cents on either the loaded or unladen weight of trucks weighing more than 18,000 pounds.

It has been estimated the levy will bring the state $20,000,000 revenue a year.

Would Create Barriers

The truckers, in their suit, claim that the law, if enforced, would "create barriers against New York trucking concerns" in other states.

They said that Vermont, Ohio and Pennsylvania had "enacted retaliatory measures against trucks licensed in New York state because of this law."

The truckers also maintained that the law violated federal constitutional provisions against any one state regulating commerce with any other state and the prohibition against a state laying "imposts or duty on imports or exports."

The tax law, they added, also violates the "due process" clause of the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

The truckers also noted that trucks used exclusively for local deliveries, buses, farm vehicles, mail trucks and government-owned vehicles were exempt from the weight-distance tax.

The truckers claimed this was discrimination. They added it would permit certain vehicles to operate in competition with taxed vehicles without paying the tax.

Brown said the state had 20 days in which to file an answer to the complaint. He said the state would defend the law vigorously.

Fight Getting . . .

Asks Withdrawal

McCarthy wrote Hennings last Tuesday suggesting that he withdraw from the rules subcommittee when it acts on Benton's resolution because:

1. Hennings' law firm represents the St. Louis Post Dispatch, which—McCarthy said—had "vigorously condemned the conviction of the 11 Communist leaders" on charges they conspired to advocate forcible overthrow of the government.
2. Hennings' law partner, John Raeburn Green, is handling the appeal of John Gates, editor of the Communist Daily Worker and one of the 11 convicted.

Hennings told the Senate McCarthy's letter was "an affront to the honor of the Senate and impugns the integrity of one of the Senate committees."

Making it plain he has no intention of withdrawing from the rules subcommittee, Hennings said Green decided to represent Gates "not for the purpose of aiding Communists or to further communism, but because he believed the court's previous decision in the case was inherently dangerous to the civil liberties guaranteed in our Bill of Rights."

Hennings said the American Bar Association, in the September issue of its journal, had praised Green for taking the case because of the reasons Hennings cited.
